

Williams Vetoes Bill To Extend Jobless Benefits

LANSING — (AP) — The Legislature's revision of the Unemployment Compensation Law, which the G.O.P. hailed as relief for current unemployment, was vetoed by Governor Williams today.

Republican Legislators had passed the bill to extend unemployment benefits from 20 to 26 weeks during 1952 only to help industrial workers idled by war contract change-overs.

Williams said this was "deceptive." He said the bill could not become effective for three months after the Legislature adjourns, and since it probably won't adjourn at all this year the benefit would be non-existent.

The governor condemned the Legislature's move to change the system under which employers contribute to the unemployment fund.

He said the change might dangerously weaken the fund and might be in violation of federal rules, subjecting employers to additional contributions of $50,000,000 without any benefit to the fund.

The governor also objected to the original purpose of the bill—to extend unemployment compensation to Great Lakes seamen who are idled during the winter.

The bill, he said, would have forced seamen to accept other jobs during the idle periods regardless of working conditions or wages, a condition not imposed on other covered employees.

Seamen and some shipping companies objected to the measure, the governor said.

Red Quiz Held Up In Detroit

DETROIT — (AP) — Wayne County circuit judges asked further information today before acting on Atty. Gen. Frank Millard's petition for a one-man grand jury to investigate Communism here.

They questioned the effect of a federal injunction which restrains police from enforcing Michigan's new Trucks Act requiring registration of Communists.

The judges said they were told informally that the court order restrains State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard from making public the evidence cited in Millard's petition and an attached affidavit.

Chief Federal Judge Arthur F. Lederle has issued a temporary restraining order keeping officials from enforcing the Trucks law until May 20, when three federal judges will start hearing on a permanent injunction sought by the Michigan Communist party.

The Trucks Act would require Communists to register with state police or face penalties up to 10 years in prison and $10,000 in fines. The Communist party claims it is unconstitutional.

In his petition for a grand jury Millard charges certain persons in Wayne county with conspiring to violate state laws relating to treason, subversion, criminal syndicalism and "associated crimes."

Millard said that he did not see that the federal injunction would bar commissioner Leonard from discussing information relating to the grand jury petition, which he said does not mention the Trucks Act.

Strangler Escapes; Girl, 5, Found Dead

ARROWFIELD, Eng. — (AP) — Five-year-old Linda Bowyer, who vanished from home shortly after an insane strangler escaped from nearby Broadmoor asylum, was found dead in a clump of woods today.

The escaped man, John Thomas Straffen, was recaptured some 12 hours after he walked in the woods with another little girl, seven years old. She was unharmed.

He had scaled the asylum wall and was free for only four hours in the picturesque Berkshire countryside some 50 miles west of London.

Police sought today to learn if Straffen was linked with little Linda's death. They did not announce how she died but sent to Scotland yard for a pathologist to examine the body.

Straffen gave up without a struggle. He was found in the woods about two miles from the Bowyer home, where Linda was last seen riding her bicycle yesterday afternoon. Her disappearance was not reported until several hours after Straffen was recaptured.

Legislators Will Get Tough With Riot-Torn Jackson State Prison

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING — (AP) — A Corrections Department spokesman said today the state Legislature will be asked to provide 122 additional "inside" guards for riot-seared Southern Michigan prison.

The Legislature goes back into session tomorrow to provide funds to repair the huge prison, torn by a costly four-day revolt last week. Damage has been estimated as high as $2,500,000.

Clifford Davis, personnel director for the Corrections Department, said the department's request will be presented by Governor Williams to the lawmakers.

More For Marquette
"It's our idea that if these additional guards can be employed we can provide adequate security for the penal institutions," Davis said.

He revealed the department also has asked officials at Ionia reformatory and Marquette prison to submit their needs for new guards.

The request will be given a Legislature which is already in a "get tough" frame of mind toward the prison revolt. Leaders

Michigan Guard Set For Floods

LANSING — (AP) — In an emergency step, Governor Williams today authorized calling the Michigan National Guard for flood duty without his specific orders.

He told Maj. Gen. Ralph A. Loveland, commanding general, to call out the Guard for 24 hours whenever necessary, but not to keep the Guard on duty any longer without getting his approval.

Williams said he was advised that the swollen Great Lakes can flood Michigan coastal areas suddenly. The Guard, he said, should be in position to render immediate help to save lives and property without first obtaining the governor's consent, the usual legal process.

Williams told the U. S. Army corps of engineers conditions still are bad at Estril Beach in Monroe county, which already has experienced one Lake Erie flood.

He urged the corps to speed control measures because the community could not afford its own.

At Estril Beach, Williams said, each day causes increasing damage to homes. He said dikes are holding the flood waters in the area and that the average house has four feet of water on the first floor still. Foundations are crumbling and sewage systems being destroyed, he said.

War In Korea Costs 419,456 Casualties For United Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP) — Twenty-two months of war in Korea have cost the United Nations forces an estimated 419,456 casualties and the Communists 1,666,069, a summary of available reports showed today.

The U. N. figures came from member delegations and semi-official sources polled periodically. The Chinese and North Korean toll is estimated bi-weekly by the U. S. Army.

On the U. N. side the biggest loser has been the republic of (south) Korea. Sources there put the total casualties, up to early this year at 301,864—29,494 dead, 101,097 wounded, 105,672 missing and 65,601 prisoners of war.

The U. S. figure announced last week was 107,666, including 16,898 dead.

said they were in no mood to appropriate large sums to restore prison luxuries.

Senator Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), chairman of the Senate appropriations committee said:

"We'll provide a little money to get the prison back on a working basis, and that's all. As for the other things, well, the convicts wrecked 'em. Let them fix 'em."

First Session Thursday

Porter said "of course, I speak only for one out of 132 men, but I find no sentiment among the members I talk to for restoring the prison the way it was. If the governor won't get tough with them, I guess we'll have to."

The lawmakers reassemble at 2 p. m. Thursday to consider the repair bill at the prison, estimated by some officials at $2,500,000.

In another evidence of proposed toughness, Rep. Robert M. Montgomery (R-Lansing), Republican House floor leader, filed a bill to impose the death penalty on any person convicted of a felony and in custody who then commits murder.

Estimates Not Ready
"If I have my way," Porter said, we'll take the $400,000 which the "Little Legislature" has in its sock and the insurance money we have coming and that's all they'll get."

Porter said the "Little Legislature" will not need its $400,000 fund—provided for emergencies when the Legislature is out of session—because "unless I am terribly wrong the Legislature will not adjourn but will continue in session until the end of the year."

The appropriating committees go to Jackson today to inspect the riot damage, but state building director A. N. Langius said accurate estimates of the money needed for repairs would not be ready when the

Lost Airliner Hunted In Brazilian Jungles

By JIMMIE S. PAYNE
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil — (AP) — Search planes combed vast, unexplored Brazilian jungles and desert-like plateaus today for a luxurious Pan-American strato-cruiser which vanished enroute to New York with 50 persons aboard.

Nineteen of them—the crew of nine and 10 passengers—were Americans.

A searcher droned through the night over the wilderness between Rio De Janeiro and Belem, hoping to spot a light or a fire if anyone survived in the thinly-populated wilds where the plane was believed down.

The search was spurred by hope that the plane may have been able to crash land somewhere on the barren plateau in mid-Brazil.

The double-decked Boeing Strato-cruiser, a peacetime development from the B-29 Superfortress, was the first plane of its kind to be reported missing. It is powered by four 2800-horsepower engines.

The powerful plane—named the Clipper Good Hope—had flown from Buenos Aires, Argentina, to Rio De Janeiro on the first leg of its "El Presidente" flight to the United States. It took off shortly after dark Monday night for Port of Spain, Trinidad, its only other scheduled halt before reaching New York.

It was due at Port of Spain at 9 a. m. EST yesterday, and carried enough fuel to stay in the air four hours beyond its scheduled flying time for the 2,600-mile trip to Trinidad.

The last word from it was a

Steel Strike Back; Court Cracks Down On Truman

Seized Plants Are Returned To Private Owners

WASHINGTON — (AP)—U. S. District Judge David A. Pine signed formal orders today directing the return of seized steel mills to their owners and then turned down a government plea to delay the effectiveness of the order.

These legal formalities cleared the way for the government to appeal to a higher court Pine's ruling that President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was illegal.

Appeal Next
Holmes Baldridge, chief government attorney, immediately filed notice of appeal.

The next step presumably will involve a government request to the U. S. Court of Appeal to overturn Pine's decision.

The injunction order signed by Judge Pine says in part: "The defendant (Secretary of Commerce Sawyer) his officers, agents, servants, employees and attorneys and those persons in active concert or participation with them who receive actual notice of this order by personal service, or otherwise, be, and hereby are, enjoined and restrained from continuing the seizure and possession of the plants, facilities and properties of the plaintiff and from acting under the purported authority of Executive Order No. 10340."

Sawyer is the defendant in the case because Truman directed the secretary of commerce to carry out the seizure.

Action Illegal
In a blistering opinion, Pine called the steel seizure "illegal" and denied what he termed a Presidential claim of "unlimited and unrestrained" power.

With the vast steel industry shutting down overnight, the government slapped an embargo on shipments of steel from warehouses to producers of civilian goods and to foreign countries.

The National Production Authority issued the order within two hours of Pine's decision in a move to conserve the supplies on hand until it is determined whether they will have to be diverted from civilian to military use.

Outside of the courts, one further course was open to Truman: to invoke the Taft-Hartley law.

Eisenhower Scores Biggest Victory In Massachusetts

By RELMAN MORIN

BOSTON — (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's popular vote total passed the 229,000 mark in the Massachusetts primary today, and a near-sweep of the delegate elections virtually closed the gap between him and Sen. Robert A. Taft in their nation-wide race for the Republican Presidential nomination.

It was almost a shut-out by Eisenhower, his most convincing pri-

Nudist Lawsuit Gets In Tangle

DETROIT — (AP)—A nudist case in federal district court was tangled in a legal zipper today.

Counsel defending officers being sued for false arrest by a music teacher cited some bare facts of procedure that may throw the damage case out of court.

Edith Church, 42, of Maumee, Ohio, who was arrested in a raid four years ago on a nudist camp near Monroe, Mich., is seeking $120,000 damages. She declared the incident caused her to lose a $4000-a-year teaching job and that her constitutional rights were violated.

The defendants are state police, sheriff Ray Gensler of Monroe county, and former prosecutor Foster D. Luse, of Monroe county.

Miss Church rested her case yesterday after a 71-year-old witness testified that one of the raiding officers ordered her to remove her clothes.

Assistant State Attorney General Martin L. Leacock sprang a surprise for the defense in moving for a directed verdict in favor of the defendants.

Leacock uncovered a Michigan statute of limitations which says no action can be brought against sheriff's deputies more than two years after the event. Miss Church filed her suit in February of 1951.

George F. Fisk Jr., attorney for Miss Church said he was not aware of the section until it was brought to his attention by the motion.

"I'll give you time to study it," said Federal Judge Frank A. Picard, "but it looks to me right now that you are out of court."

Horse Attends Ball At Waldorf Astoria

NEW YORK — (AP) — A dapple-grey horse pulling a two-wheeled buggy trotted into a ballroom of Manhattan's swank Waldorf Astoria hotel last night.

Old Dobbin's appearance was no surprise, however. He and the buggy were a golden anniversary present to Frank L. Boyden, headmaster of Deerfield Academy in Massachusetts. Boyden was guest of honor at a dinner given at the hotel by alumni and friends of the academy.

The gift was an acknowledgment of Boyden's hobby of riding around Deerfield in a horse-drawn vehicle.

mary victory of any to date.

Crowds Kefauver
Along with his overwhelming count in the Republican election, Eisenhower also got a big Democratic vote, big enough to put him in second place behind Sen. Estes Kefauver, of Tennessee, the expected winner.

When reporters gave him the figures, at an airport in Frankfurt, Germany, the general grinned, and said, "is that good?"

Later, in Paris, he said the results were "an overpowering sort of thing. It has begun to look kind of serious."

One For Taft
Massachusetts has 38 GOP convention votes, and Eisenhower today has 29 of them as a result of 27 victories and two previously allotted by agreement. Taft won one delegate and also got two by agreement. The other six presumably will be uncommitted at the nomination convention in July.

Eisenhower's nation-wide delegate total moved up to 265 as a result of the added delegates. Three more for Taft put his tally at 268, although his managers are claiming 305.

The figures, compiled by The Associated Press, are based on delegates pledged, favorable, or publicly committed to the two leading Republican contenders for the nomination.

Leads Both Tickets
A popular vote that smashed all records in Massachusetts put these dimensions to Eisenhower's victory:

1. His GOP write-ins alone were more than all the votes cast for all other candidates, both Republican and Democratic.

2. He was running nearly 130,000 ahead of Taft, and he had nearly

Oil Workers Quit For Higher Wages

DENVER — (AP) — Approximately 87,000 oil workers throughout the nation began laying down their tools today as a strike of union refinery and pipeline workers got under way at 12:01 a. m. Negotiations continued meanwhile on their demands for a 25-cent hourly wage increase and improved shift differentials.

Present extra pay for night work is 4 cents an hour for the 4 p. m. to midnight shift and 6 cents for the midnight to 8 a. m. shift. The union wants these differentials increased to 6 and 12 cents, respectively.

Government officials reported they had no present intention of intervening.

Negotiations in some locals were reported progressing on a note of optimism, especially in San Francisco where about 25,000 union-affiliated industry workers were represented in talks—none of them on strike.

The Oil Workers International Union (CIO) in Denver had requested 10,000 members in California to remain on the job so as not to hinder operations for the Korean war effort.

Present wages reportedly average between $2 and $2.10 an hour. A union spokesman said union and management generally were about 10 cents apart when the strike began.

Motorists Worried
Negotiations are being conducted on a plant-by-plant basis and the exact strike picture will require some time to clarify. Some 200 separate contracts are involved.

A CIO union official said each plant involved in the strike would be manned after the strike deadline by union workers for a sufficient time for orderly, safe shutdown. He added the time required "will depend upon the type of plant—some may be shut down safely within a matter of minutes, others may take 72 hours."

Motorists are expected to be hit hardest by a prolonged strike. Long lines of cars were reported at filling stations in Detroit and other cities last night before the strike deadline of 12:01 a. m., local time.

Prison Rebels Spirited Away

JACKSON, Mich. — (AP) — Riot leaders Earl Ward and "Crazy Jack" Hyatt were removed from troubled southern Michigan prison with another mutineer today to three county jails.

Warden Julian Frisbie said the three were taken from the prison in deepest secrecy shortly after midnight under heavy state police guard.

Ward, who led most of the negotiations for the rioting prisoners during the four-day mutiny last week, was taken to the Livingston county jail at Howell.

Hyatt, his partner who once tried to seize Governor G. Mennen Williams as a hostage during a short disturbance at Marquette prison, was sent to the Clinton county jail at St. Johns.

The third convict, James W. Hudson, a 44-year-old lifer, was taken to Gratiot county jail at Ithaca. Warden Frisbie said Hudson, serving a life term for first degree murder, was a leader of the yard rioting April 21 at the prison.

Frisbie told reporters that Ward and Hyatt had been trying to stir up new trouble at the prison since the revolt ended last Thursday. They shouted at men marching by outside their cellblock 15, urging another uprising.

Giant Industry Idle As 650,000 Union Men Quit

Pittsburgh — (AP) — Grim CIO United Steelworkers clamped a coast-to-coast steel strike on the nation with breathtaking speed today. The great American steel industry headed for a quick and complete shutdown within hours.

The haste with which 650,000 unionists answered USW president Philip Murray's cease-work order caused scattered damage to costly steelmaking equipment.

Pickets Appear
The walkout was peaceful and orderly.

The work stoppage, third in steel since the end of World War II, began in Gary, Ind., and South Chicago within an hour after a federal judge nullified government seizure of the steel industry.

Like a chain of sputtering firecrackers stretched across the land, pickets popped up at plant gates everywhere. Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Buffalo and Baltimore were among the first to report workers walking out.

Most of the scarfers, rollers, heaters and other steel mill workers waited until their local union officers received Murray's cease work order. But many of them dropped their tools and picked up their lunch boxes as soon as they heard of the court decision.

Deadlock Unbroken
The USW's contract with practically all major steel producers expired Jan. 1. Union-industry negotiations produced no new pact. Federal mediators failed to break the deadlock on the union's demand for an 18 1/2 cent hourly wage boost, union shop and other objectives.

The WSB recommended a 17 1/2 cent hourly pay hike and a union shop, plus other benefits. USW accepted. Industry balked. President Truman averted a strike April 9 by seizing the steel industry. The companies successfully fought the action by getting a federal court injunction. An hour later they were strike-bound.

The average earnings of USW members has been running between $1.94 and $1.97 an hour in

Retail Trade Takes Drop In Michigan

LANSING — (AP) — Michigan retail business in March was below a year ago at the same time, the state revenue department indicated today. Sales and use taxes were reported off $1,214,000.

Collections in April on March business total $19,500,220, compared with $21,114,000 a year ago, deputy revenue commissioner Clarence W. Lock said.

He said that $498,000 of the loss was in automobile sales, which have been off for some months. The balance was scattered through most other lines of retail selling and was the first such drop in recent months, he said.

Collections of the taxes for the fiscal year to date are $2,753,000 behind last year at the same time, Lock added.

The cigarette tax, reversed the trend, climbing from $1,797,489 last April to $1,823,388 this month.

Andrews Child Killed At Talbot

James Raymond Andrews, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Andrews of Talbot, was instantly killed Tuesday, A. M. when an iron lawn roller he was pushing hurled him down an 8-foot embankment, fracturing his neck. The accident occurred in the front yard of his parents' home.

The child's mother is the former Eileen Lewis of Escanaba. He is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Math Lewis, 331 1st Ave. S., and a grand nephew of James R. Andrews, 720 Lake Shore Drive.

No Witnesses

The accident was not witnessed, occurring while the boy's mother went into the house for only a few minutes to start preparing lunch. When she returned she found the child pinned under the roller. Dr. John R. Heidenreich of Daggett was summoned and pronounced the boy dead on arrival.

Coroner Robert E. Diehm, who investigated the accident, reported it was believed the boy was pushing the 15-pound roller and got too close to the edge of lawn which cuts down sharply into an 8-foot embankment.

Marks just under the edge of the bank indicated the roller stuck momentarily in some brush, causing the handle to which the boy was clinging to flip over and hurl him to the ground below. He was found pinned under the roller, but examination showed it did not pass over his body.

Born in Daggett

James Raymond Andrews was born in Daggett on June 1, 1948. He is survived by his parents, two sisters, Janie and Mary Beth; one brother, Robert, and by his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Math Lewis of Escanaba.

The boy's father, William Andrews, resigned recently as a deputy in the office of Sheriff Edward J. Reindl, Menominee, to enter the bottle gas business in Carney.

The body was taken to the Anderson Funeral Home, Escanaba, where friends of the family may call beginning late this afternoon. Services will be held at 10 a. m. CST Thursday at St. Frederick's Church in Daggett with burial in Stephenson Cemetery.

Steel Strike Halts Work Here

Approximately 100 workers will be laid off tomorrow at the local C&NW ore docks as a result of the nation-wide steel strike which follows the reversion of the steel industry into the hands of the operators.

In the wake of yesterday's Federal District Court ruling that President Truman had no constitutional power to seize the steel industry on April 8, all contingent operations in the industry were immediately curtailed.

As a result, dock forces are being reduced here, scheduled ore boats have been cancelled and the majority of Upper Peninsula ore mines have suspended operations, according to Docks Agent L. A. McMillan.

The local docks will begin tomorrow to handle only a small percentage of a normal volume. All pockets in the docks are now filled and no more ore can be dumped.

With no ore moving in here, switch engines and road crews are being pulled off their jobs, McMillan reported.

All mines in the Marquette and Gogebic ranges and most of them in the Menominee range suspended loading operations this morning.

A small number of mines in Stambaugh-Iron River area will continue shipping for the time being, McMillan said, and some train loads from there may continue to come in here.

Additional forces may be laid off after tomorrow's initial group, he reported.

Marble Reports U. P. Progress

The story of economic progress in the Upper Peninsula through the cooperative leadership of the U. P. Development Bureau was told last night by Will Marble of Gladstone, Development Bureau director, to the Presbyterian Men's club of Escanaba.

Presiding at the meeting was Lawrence Erickson, Men's club president.

A feature of the entertainment program was the appearance of the Orpheus Choral Club, which presented a 20-minute concert with Ken Thompson soloist.

History of Progress

Marble outlined the history of the Development Bureau, organized in Menominee in 1911 by the representatives of 15 U. P. counties.

The program of the Bureau has been financed by local contributions and since 1929 with the assistance of state appropriations, Marble said. Citing the record of Bureau accomplishments, the speaker added:

"It is for you and all other Upper Peninsula men to determine whether the Bureau shall be given sufficient financial and working support to enable it to function effectively in an ever-expanding field, achieving still greater success for our area in these challenging times."

Farm and Factory

As early as 1913 the Bureau was directing attention to the agricultural opportunities of the U. P.; in 1918 it supported legislation creating the conservation department; in 1921 supported legislative proposals to establish state ferries at the Straits; and the following year pointed to construction of a Straits bridge as permanent solution to the transportation problem.

Hard-surfaced highways, forestry and conservation, promotion of tourist and resort business, and cooperation in establishing a fund for the purchase of purebred sires to improve U. P. dairy herds were cited as other contributions of the Bureau.

Industrial and economic surveys were made and brochures distributed to interest industry in the U. P., Marble said.

At the present time the Bureau is actively interested in an engineering and economic study, natural resources and industrial development program for the U. P. which has been proposed and may soon materialize.

Plan Survey For Industry

Plans for the survey of industrial prospects in Upper Peninsula of Michigan were outlined at a meeting here yesterday attended by local business and industrial leaders and representatives of the Economic Development Commission and Ebasco Services of New York.

Ebasco Services has been hired to make the survey of the Peninsula, a job that is planned to be completed within 90 days. The Escanaba meeting, held at the Chamber of Commerce office here, is one of 10 such preliminary meetings to be held in the Peninsula.

Attending the meeting, in addition to local business and industrial leaders were Arne Ervath, field representative of the Economic Development Commission; Al Hornborger, assistant to Director Don Weeks of the commission; Charles Drake, Detroit Edison Company; Ed Vandenberg, University of Michigan; F. W. Rooney, Ebasco Services; A. W. Toole, Michigan Tech.; and Ray McLeod, Michigan State.

The advantages and disadvantages of the various areas of the Upper Peninsula from a standpoint of industrial development will be surveyed by the Ebasco Services and the meeting here yesterday was a preliminary one to evaluate the general situation in the Escanaba area.

The University of Michigan, Michigan Tech and Michigan State College have promised their cooperation in the survey.

EHS, St. Joe Top Festival

Escanaba and St. Joseph schools dominated the Forensic Festival district qualifications held at Escanaba High School yesterday, sending 10 students into the regional finals to be held at Marquette on May 9.

Kingsford and Iron Mountain had three students each qualifying for the regional. Students from Gladstone, Norway and Menominee also took part.

Students whose readings were judged superior are qualified to go on to the regional. Other ratings were excellent, very good, good and average.

Escanaba led in qualifiers with six and St. Joseph qualified four on the basis of superior ratings in readings yesterday.

Escanaba students who qualified and their readings follow:

Maxine Bernstein in lyric poetry division with "Thanatopsis", David Gasman and Mary Larson in dramatic dialogue with "The Cask of Amontillado" and "The Death Disk", Ruth Haven and Lynn Bergman in dramatic monologue with "Sixteen" and "The Yellow Wallpaper", and Jim Timms in humorous readings with "Green Pastures".

St. Joe qualifiers and readings as follows:

Barbara Bink in narrative reading with selection from "The Little Black Boys", Jean LaBranche, Gary Papineau and Marianne Barron in humorous readings with "The Cremation of Sam McGee", "Symptoms" and "Pyramus and Thisbe".

Judges for the festival were Northern Michigan College of Education speech instructors. Students were rated on suitability of subject, originality of thought, organization, word choice and delivery.

Fifty students from the seven district schools took part in the festival.

Missionary From Tonga Isles Visits Aunt Here

A missionary priest who has spent 17 years with the peace-loving peoples of the Friendly Islands is making his first visit to the United States and in Escanaba.

Father James Eckert is a Luxembourg-born Catholic priest of the Marist order who was assigned from Belgium in 1935 to help maintain the order's mission on the Tonga Islands in the South Seas.

He left there for the first time last month to take a year-long vacation from his Tongan parish to revisit his homeland.

First stop-over visit on his trans-world journey was Escanaba where he arrived last week to meet for the first time his aunt, Mrs. Jeanne Gafner, and his cousin, Fred A. Gafner, of 1519 Ludington St.

Good Will Advocates

From here he will go by train and boat to Europe and his native Luxembourg and then back again, making a complete trip around the world, to the idyllic islands to continue his missionary assignment among the peaceful Tongans.

The Tonga Islands have come to be known as the Friendly Islands, Father Eckert says, "because of the warm welcoming spirit and the happy ways of the natives."

The nature of the Islanders has made the job of the missions there a somewhat easier one than it would be among peoples unwilling to receive visitors.

One of the few South Pacific islands untouched by the war, the Tonga group and its natives have been able to maintain a calm, ordered existence that could be the envy of the larger and more strategic islands of the South Seas.

Volcanic Islands

The only disturbances known to the islanders, except for some petty wars decades ago are volcanic eruptions which occur periodically and in no fixed pattern.

Father Eckert recalls from his store of experiences seven weeks of volcanic activity on Tincan Island in 1943 while he was staying on that island.

Like many of the Tongan islands, Tincan is an islet that has been built up by a volcano. The eruption that occurred in 1943 was an outbreak on the slope of the volcanic cone.

"It was a minor one and didn't

Weesner Airline Interests Bared

INDIANAPOLIS—(AP)—Charges of unauthorized, interlocking control of seven aviation concerns marked the opening day of a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing that directly concerns air service in Michigan.

The hearing is to determine whether Lake Central Airlines of Indianapolis, which now operates a route that includes Grand Rapids and Kalamazoo, is "fit, willing and able" to extend routes to other parts of Michigan.

The airline has proposed a route across the Upper Peninsula to Hancock, then extending to Green Bay, Wis., and across Lake Michigan to Grand Rapids, Lansing and Detroit.

At the start of the hearing, expected to last about a week, it was charged that Lake Central is tied to several other air firms.

Dr. Vernon Fox Should Be Fired As Prison Official In Michigan

THE public censure by Governor Williams of Dr. Vernon Fox, deputy warden at Jackson Prison, and the change in assignment of Dr. Fox by the Corrections Commission express to a mild degree at least the general attitude of the people of Michigan to the message of congratulations by Dr. Fox to the convicts at the end of the mutiny.

Dr. Fox should be discharged completely from the prison service, not merely transferred to "new duties." The brazen statement of Dr. Fox to the convicts condones their action in jeopardizing the lives of their hostages and the lives of other prisoners in the disastrous mutiny.

The state, of course, is under no obligation to respect the surrender terms of the rioting convicts. A basic principle of American law is that any contract made under duress is not binding.

As a representative of the prison administration, Dr. Fox should be well aware of the dangers that exist in encouraging psychopathic convicts to mutiny. And yet his congratulatory message to the convicts and his laudatory comments about the leader of the riot can serve only to breed more trouble.

It is not surprising that other guards at Jackson prison have resented the attitude of Dr. Fox and have requested his transfer from Jackson. He should be fired outright as surely there can be no place in the state prison setup for an administrative official who believes that a convict mutiny deserves applause. It is one thing to understand why convicts riot and another thing to applaud such riots, particularly when they are instigated, as this one was, by psychopathic convicts.

Rural Mailbox Improvement Week

THE week of April 27 to May 3 has been designated by the Post Office Department as Rural Mailbox Improvement Week, so it is fitting at this time to call attention of rural mailbox owners to the importance of improving their mailbox.

Here are a few pointers suggested by the Post Office Department:

(1) See that posts are securely erected—and are not leaning badly—and that box is fastened securely.

(2) Replace obsolete box if it is hard to get mail into it, or if it is hard to see into it for letters that you want mailed.

(3) Name should be painted on side of box which carrier approaches (or can be on front of box if several boxes are closely grouped together).

(4) It is a big help if several boxes are neatly and closely placed on a plank extending between two posts.

(5) Bottom of box should be 42 inches above roadway, and should be on an arm extending out away from the post, in such a manner that it can be easily reached, with all obstructions (including snow and parked cars) promptly removed.

(6) Fill ruts with crushed rock or broken brick or cement.

(7) Drive your own car up to your box. If you can easily reach your mail from behind the wheel of your car, reaching out the right hand side as the carrier is required to do, then the chances are that your box is pretty well located. But better yet, talk to your carrier about the proper location, and the correct setting.

(8) Your carrier serves this box 305 days every year. If it is correctly set, it lightens his work and saves him time so that he can more quickly serve other patrons farther along his route (and saving his time can save the government money).

(9) This will be appreciated, for with the rapid development of housing on acreages, the work load of most rural carriers has more than doubled in the past few years.

(10) Your mailbox is the front door to your home. Since it is usually in front of your home, its neat appearance will add considerably to the neat appearance of your home. Ruts filled—box and post painted white.

'Making' Money The Hard Way

WHAT they won't do for a yen in Japan these days. The latest money-making dodge reported from Tokyo is this:

A fellow takes a 1000-yen bill, cuts it into 15 pieces, and then reassembles it, minus one piece. With such extra pieces he makes a new bill. The Bank of Japan is legally obligated to pay in full for any damaged bill if at least two-thirds of it is held by the person presenting it.

There must be a less tedious way of making money. Do you suppose the people out there haven't heard about surplus property deals?

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—For the first time since Queen Marie of Roumania visited the United States uninvited during the Hoover administration, Washington will welcome an uninvited chief-of-state this week. He is Gen. Anastasio Somoza, the president—and dictator—of Nicaragua.

President Somoza was not invited to visit the U. S. A., but he's coming anyway. He has to go to the Leahy clinic in Boston for an operation and sent word that since he would have to be in the United States, he would not think of neglecting to pay a return visit to the man who as "Senator Harry Truman" had paid him a visit while investigating the Pan American Highway as chairman of the war investigating committee.

Under these circumstances there wasn't much the White House could do about it, so President Somoza, arriving tomorrow, will be given a quiet luncheon by President Truman.

Reason neither the State Department nor the White House particularly relishes an official visit from the chief of state of Nicaragua is first, because our official policy is to ignore and discourage dictators; second, because President Somoza has consistently upset democratic elections held under the guidance of the United States.

During the Coolidge administration, Henry L. Stimson, later secretary of state, was sent to Nicaragua to smooth out a nasty revolution and arrange to evacuate U. S. Marines. He organized a Nicaraguan national guard, trained by the marines; also held elections under American supervision. General Somoza did so well under the U. S. Marines that he became head of the national guard. However, after the United States staged its free and fair election, supervised by Harold Dodds, now president of Princeton, General Somoza, trained by the United States, waited for our marines to evacuate, then threw out the duly elected president—his uncle—and became president himself.

NICARAGUAN NEPOTISM
After about 12 years of ruling Nicaragua, General Somoza got bored, installed a puppet, Dr. Leonardo Arguello, as president. President Arguello, however, had the nerve to demote Somoza's son-in-law as head of the public health department, relieved Somoza's elder son as inspector general of the national guard, and relieved another Somoza son as commander of the presidential guard.

Finally the new president started to oust another Somoza son-in-law, Bill Sevilla-Sacasa, as ambassador to the United States. Somoza's daughter, Lillian, however, enjoyed the bright life of Washington, so such a move could not be tolerated. Whereupon Somoza's supposedly puppet president found himself thrown out of the palace with General Somoza once again assuming the role of dictator.

Note—President Roosevelt, less worried about dictators than Harry Truman, officially invited President Somoza to Washington twice. "He may be an S. O. B.," said FDR, "but he's our S. O. B."

TRUMAN VS. NEWSPAPERS
Newspapers probably didn't know it, but President Truman's off-the-cuff remark about power to seize the press may have blocked certain antimonopoly moves by the Justice Department against certain newspapers.

For some time the Justice Department has been considering broad anti-trust prosecution of newspapers having a near monopoly of news in their areas. Two such moves already have been made, on a limited scale.

One against the New Orleans Times-Picayune was on the basis of unfair advertising practices, while a second and more sweeping case against the Lorain Ohio Journal resulted in a Supreme Court decision that any newspaper receiving press-service news across state lines was engaged in interstate commerce.

The Lorain Journal case actually involved only the monopoly question of refusal by the newspaper to take ads, if advertisers also patronized a competing radio station. However, Justice Burton, who happens to come from Cleveland, Ohio, adjacent to Lorain, and who is considered the most conservative member of the court, went further than the Justice Department expected in upholding its position.

Armed with this 7-0 ruling, written by a Republican, the Justice Department was considering broad moves against various newspapers on monopoly charges.

PRIOR MONOPOLY MOVES
Previous to the Lorain Journal case, the Justice Department actually had considered three monopoly suits. One was against the Rochester, N. Y., Times-Union and Democrat and Chronicle, owned by Frank Gannett, who also owns a radio station in Rochester. Another was against the Omaha World-Herald which also operates a radio station, and the third was against the Kansas City Times and Star and its radio station.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

London—Trondheim and Kiel, important bases for the menacing Nazi naval power, were left blasted and burning by heavy RAF assaults as the British relentlessly prosecuted the fiercest air offensive of the war.

Detroit—Protected by armed state guards, state and city police and jeered by neighboring white residents, Negro families began occupying the $1,000,000 federally-sponsored Sojourner Truth housing development in northeast Detroit, scene of bloodshed over racial issues two months previously.

Escanaba—Word was received here that Paul Sattm, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Knute Sattm, 1610 Tenth Ave. S., died of an infectious disease in the Panama Canal Zone where he was employed by the United States government.

"Er---I'll Sit This One Out"

Ridgway, Career Militarist, Was Pentagon's Choice For NATO

By WADE JONES
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Selection of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U. S. military chief in the Far East, to succeed Gen. Eisenhower at SHAPE came as no surprise at all to those who knew Ridgway as a youngster.

Guests approaching the Ridgway home in Walla, Walla, Wash., after dark were routinely subjected to Master Matthew's soprano challenge from the porch. "Halt! Who goes there?" Then they had to "advance and be recognized."

Military life is in the Ridgway blood. Gen. Ridgway's father was an Army colonel. Matthew was born on an Army post, and has lived on them most of the time since.

Just before being ordered to Korea as 8th Army commander, Ridgway used to stand on the porch of his home at Fort Myer, Va., to salute the colors at sundown. Beside him, eyes ahead, and standing stiff as any plebe on parade, was his 21-month-old son, Matt, Jr.

Ridgway is a fighting man, as anyone familiar with his World War II record knows. But he's also a family man with a big F. The combination has produced the human type of general that young lieutenants in the movies vow they'd go through hell for.

Following the forbidding aloofness of Gen. MacArthur as Far East commander, Ridgway seemed downright jovial.

The crowd on hand to welcome Ridgway's first day at Supreme Headquarters in Tokyo was treated to the sight of a general wearing green fatigues with a live hand grenade slung from his shoulder.

That was only the beginning. He and his pretty wife, Penny, a black-eyed widow he married in 1946, began going out socially, a thing MacArthur rarely did.

MacArthur didn't even have a phone in his office. Ridgway promptly installed one and listed it under his name in the Occupation Force phone book. And he answered it, usually starting off with, "This is Ridgway."

He's a man of action himself, and he demands that quality from others. For instance, he's long since gotten rid of that symbol of executive indecision, the "hold" basket on the desk.

Perhaps Ridgway's most outstanding characteristic is this quality of action. At the Pentagon, where he was deputy chief of staff before he went to Korea, Ridgway is remembered as a strong desk-pounder when confronted with an evasive answer. In North Africa his striding across the skyline to work off excess energy was described as "a terrifying sight."

Persons recently back from Korea say this fierce energy over the years is showing up in a certain gauntness in the face of the handsome Ridgway, now 56.

Ridgway didn't get overseas in World War I, and in the ensuing years he had duty in China, Nicaragua and the Philippines. He literally jumped to fame in World War II with his belated paratroopers.

He took command of the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Benning, Ga., in 1942, and from the start was a jumping general, first in training and later in combat.

GEN. MATTHEW B. RIDGWAY: On the skyline, a terrifying sight.

He jumped with his men in Normandy on the European invasion and once attacked a German tank with his rifle.

Throughout the European campaigns he kept his men at a fine point of combat tenseness. The lads of the 82nd were as ready to do battle in a Naples barroom as they were on the line at Cassino.

Immediately after World War II, Ridgway got a taste of diplomacy when he was made United States member of the United Nations Military Staff Committee and Chairman of the Inter-American Defense Board in Washington.

Between his UN job and that as deputy chief of staff, he was chief of the Caribbean Command.

In his present job Ridgway has four titles, any one of them impressive enough to do the average general for a lifetime: Supreme Commander, Allied Powers; Commander-in-Chief, United Nations Command; Commander-in-Chief, Far East; and Commanding General, U. S. Army, Far East.

Now he is also to be "Command-in-Chief, North Atlantic Treaty Organization Forces in Europe."

The big brass in the Pentagon hoped he would and boosted him. Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has said:

Ridgway is "one of those tremendously valuable Army officers who are both outstanding commanders and amazingly competent staff officers. He can plan an action and he can execute it."

New Land In Everglades Opened By Water Control

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The United States' semi-tropical show case—the rich and lushly vegetated Florida Everglades—is scheduled for some new decorating effects at the hand of man.

Presently under construction is the first phase of a $208,000,000 master plan to tame the 'Glades—a plan that reaches into an area larger than Connecticut, Delaware, and New Jersey combined, including a third of Florida's people and nearly half of its wealth.

Projected by the United States Army Corps of Engineers, the massive water-control scheme calls for drainage of swamps, control of floods, and reclamation for agriculture and cattle of extensive reaches of grass lands, says the National Geographic Society.

Although the plan encompasses the eastern part of Florida from Orlando south, first-phase work is primarily concerned with the Lake Okeechobee region, the lower east coast and the Everglades proper, often called America's "last frontier."

For well over a century Floridians have been stirred to action by dreams of making productive a part or all of the 4½-million-acre Everglades area which lies south of Lake Okeechobee. Although dominated by nearly flat and usually flooded grass marshes, much of the area's soil is rich, organic muck capable of producing a crop in 60 days.

Exotic Wilderness

In the upset of Nature many casualties were counted. Among the first to disappear from water-drowned lands, for example, were Pomacea snails, which depend on fresh water for life. As a result, the Everglades kite—a bird that exists on Pomacea snails—has become rarer.

Fortunately for the region's wildlife the Everglades National Park was created in 1947. Here a part of the Everglades' exotic wilderness will be preserved forever in a natural state. A refuge for birds, the parks plays host to such colorful guests as the snowy egret, white and wood ibis, Louisiana and blue heron, white pelican and many other species.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE MYSTERY—Newspapers subscribe to what is termed "filler" services which provide the papers with interesting one-paragraph bits of information to insert as "fillers" in the pages of news.

Among the recent fillers was an item that set off more than a bit of talk around the Bay de Noc region, printed in the Daily Press as follows:

"A vessel whose name is still secret is said to lie at the bottom of Lake Michigan off the coast of Big Bay de Noc, near Escanaba. The hold of the sunken ship is believed to contain gold and a half million dollars in gold bullion."

Persons who called the Daily Press news room to find out more concerning the lost "treasure ship" were astounded to find the editors could not amplify on the item. It was as much of a mystery to them as to the readers.

MARKING THE SPOT—Certainly the name of the vessel is a "secret" and there is every reason to suspect the whole story is based on legend rather than fact.

The vessel has never been named because marine records are quite complete—and there is no recorded ship carrying gold bullion that ever sank in this area.

The tale appears to be the figment of some feature writer's imagination, which has gained dignity by long repetition and now assumes the cloak of fact.

I faintly recall reading a feature story somewhere in which a map of the Great Lakes was presented, showing where valuable cargoes had been lost. One of the crosses marked the spot where the mysterious vessel with the fortune in gold had sunk near Poverty Island, located some seven or eight miles south of Fairport in Lake Michigan.

WHERE YOU FIND IT—Gold is where you find it, and we doubt that anyone will find four or one-half million dollars worth of it near Poverty Island.

Readers should note the caution with which the information is presented in the filler.

The vessel "is said" to lie at the bottom; and "is believed" to contain gold.

If there were factual elements they would have been told long ago. It would not be necessary to qualify the information with it is said and it is believed.

Not only that, but there have been seekers after sunken fortunes on the Lakes these many years, and gold bullion would have been a prize not to be overlooked.

HARD TO BELIEVE—To the best of our recollection the story as told in one of the Sunday supplements some years ago tried to account for the legend of sunken gold by reporting the bullion was being shipped from Old Fort Mackinac to Fort Howard at Green Bay.

Still more preposterous was the statement that four and one-half million dollars in gold bullion was to meet the payroll at the Fort Howard outpost.

Presumably the Army was paying off its soldiers at a higher rate than today, despite today's inflation.

Four and one-half million dollars in gold would meet all the Army payrolls in the Northwest Territory back in 1850. And it is difficult to believe the Army paid off in bullion and passed out bars of gold like peanuts.

FOR WHAT IT IS—No, the legend of the sunken treasure in gold must be taken for what it is—a tale so often told it has almost attained the standing of truth.

If I am wrong, let some student of marine history come forward with the facts, including exact location of the sunken ship and its cargo of gold. We promise to outfit a salvage expedition and cut him in on a couple million in gold.

Meanwhile we will be content to speculate on the subject and try to keep that sunken ship from bobbing back into the news columns.

TEST YOUR VOCABULARY

From the definitions below check with a pencil the one word of the four that follow that is most nearly defined. Try not to look at the answers below until you have completed the test.

1.—To crush with sudden attack: (a) overrun; (b) overturn; (c) overwhelm; (d) overpower.

2.—To become too large for: (a) outburst; (b) outflow; (c) outgrow; (d) outspan.

3.—A proverbial saying: (a) byword; (b) by-play; (c) by-talk; (d) by-line.

4.—Plain, blunt, and frank: (a) outright; (b) downright; (c) forthright; (d) upright.

5.—To be patient: (a) forbear; (b) forgive; (c) forego; (d) forbear.

6.—A later result: (a) aftermath; (b) aftermath; (c) afterward; (d) afterclap.

7.—Noisy disturbance: (a) upheaval; (b) upthrust; (c) uproar; (d) upstart.

8.—An approach: (a) onslaught; (b) onset; (c) onrush; (d) oncoming.

Answers

1.—(c) overwhelm; (Middle English "hwelmen," to turn over). "The sudden Chinese thrust overwhelmed our small outpost."

2.—(c) outgrow. "Our children, worse luck, continue to outgrow their clothes."

3.—(a) byword. "It is a common byword that April showers bring May flowers."

4.—(b) downright. "Jones is what we call, in downright English, a fool."

5.—(d) forbear; (Old English "forberan"). "She determined to forbear with her husband's failings."

6.—(b) aftermath; ("math," a mowing). "An aftermath is a second or later mowing of hay; hence, figuratively, any later result; as, aftermaths of war."

7.—(c) uproar. "Wild shrieks and the barking of dogs added to the general uproar."

8.—(d) oncoming. "A far-off whistle announced the oncoming of the train."

Speaking about ailments, too many people go around irritating other people by doing just that.

You really stand for something when you fall for buying more than your share of government bonds

The Doctor Says...

Tension And Anxiety Are Likely Causes of Teeth Grinding Habit

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Human beings frequently develop strange habits which may be most annoying, although not dangerous to life or general health.

Q—I sleep lightly and wake frequently during the night. Often on awakening, I discover that I have been vigorously grinding my teeth. What might cause this? Could it appreciably wear off the enamel?—Curious.

A—Teeth grinding is quite common among children and not exactly rare even among grownups. It probably should be considered a habit disorder, closely related to other forms of sleep disturbances, such as wakefulness, nightmares and talking during sleep.

Physical factors such as diseased tonsils, especially in children, should be ruled out, but a more likely cause is tension and anxiety. Attention should be paid to eating foods which are not irritating to the particular person, and perhaps diet habits should be changed somewhat, particularly in the evening.

Possible causes for tension should be considered. It is possible that the teeth would be worn down by too vigorous and long-continued grinding.

Q—Is it true that a woman cannot conceive if she breast-feeds a baby and has no period during lactation?—Mrs. A. M. D.

A—Menstruation can occur in women who are nursing their babies, and indeed pregnancy can take place during the period of lactation before the return of the menses. In other words, it is not true.

Q—Several years ago my father was flung from a train, striking his forehead and he was knocked unconscious. When taken to the hospital, he was found to have a fractured skull, but no sign of heart disease or nephritis. However, one year after the accident, he died from nephritis. Could the injury have had anything to do with this?—Mrs. M.

A—This is a highly technical question, but the probability is that the answer is no. It does seem within the realm of possibility that he had some inflammation of the kidney present before the accident, and that the accident caused the infection to become worse, but even this is entirely speculation.

Q—Please explain the difference between congenital and hereditary as applied to disease and physical appearance. The definition in my dictionary is confusing.—R. M.

A—The difference is confusing, but there is a difference. A disease or condition which is truly inherited is present in the germ cell of one or both parents, and is called a gene. A congenital condition, however, is not present in the seeds of the parents, but is acquired before birth.

An example of the latter is congenital syphilis. This condition, unlike a true hereditary disease, can be cured and the child can grow to maturity and have children without any chance of their inheriting that condition.

New Office For Social Security

The Escanaba Social Security office, located for the past 11 years in the Federal Building, was in the process of moving into spacious new quarters at 1215 Ludington St. today.

"We are moving into new offices in order to give more adequate and efficient service to the public," said director Carl Johnson. "With our office staff doubled and our traffic nearly so, we were sorely cramped for space in the other office," he added.

The new quarters, former office of the Army recruiting staff, are more centrally located and on the ground floor. The offices have been remodeled and redecorated since the Army staff vacated three months ago. The new quarters provide twice as much space as was available in the Federal Building.

A new staff member has recently joined the Social Security office here. Wilbur Kobelius, claims assistant, is a transfer from the Jackson, Mich., field office and has been here for a month.

Other personnel are Gail G. Russell, field representative; Eileen C. Johnson, claims examiner; C. Roberge, claims stenographer; Mrs. Pearl C. Schram, claims stenographer; Mrs. Annette L. Myers, receptionist, and Eino J. Heino, D.O.S. representative at Sault Ste. Marie.

The new offices will be in order by tomorrow when business will be resumed as usual. The public is invited to view the new quarters at any time, Director Johnson announced.

Kalamazoo Girl Weds Without Missing Day In High School Work

KALAMAZOO—(P)—Wedding or no wedding, Faye Brown didn't want to spoil her perfect attendance record at Kalamazoo Central High School.

So she's back at her school desk as Mrs. Alvin Hope after a whirlwind weekend that combined both wedding and honeymoon.

Faye, 17-year-old senior, has six weeks to go before graduation. And when her fiancé, Alvin Hope, 23, recently returned from Korean service with the Navy and asked her to marry him right away, she accepted. But it was on condition that the ceremony would not spoil her 10-year record of attending school without an absence.

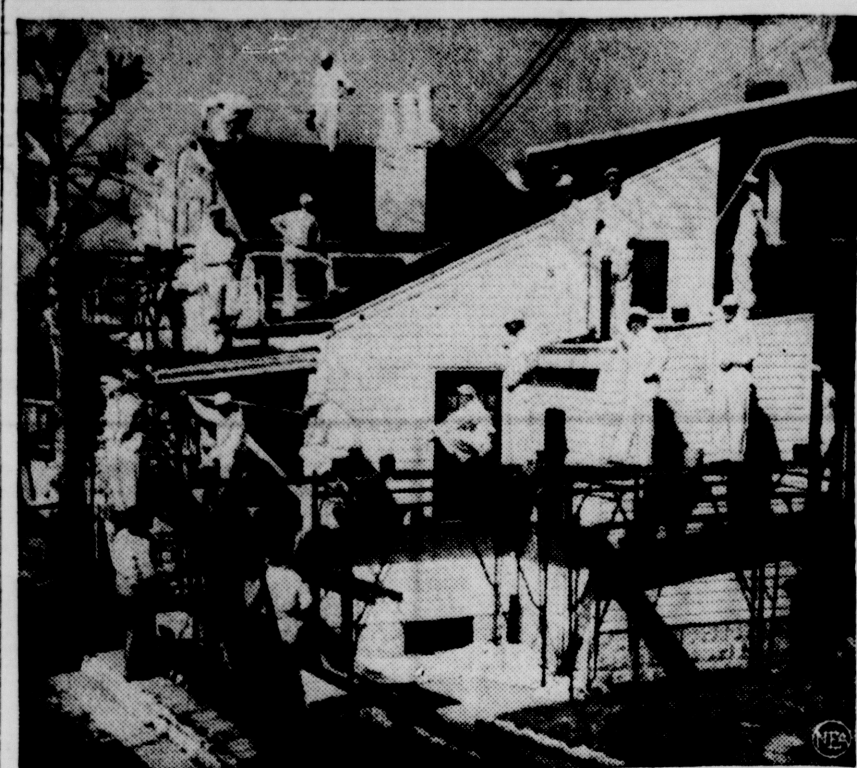

So last Friday she hurried home from her afternoon classes and hastily prepared for an evening wedding. A three-day honeymoon at Cloverdale followed.

That gave Faye ample time to get back to school in time for Monday morning classes.

Earnings Of Mead For First Quarter Are $1.01 A Share

Shareholders of The Mead Corporation were told today at the annual meeting by Sydney Ferguson, Chairman of the Board, that earnings for the first quarter of 1952 of $1.01 per common share are about in line with previous estimates. Dollar sales have held up almost to the level of the first quarter of 1951. Tonnage sales declined largely because of the sale of the Manistiquette mill and a decline in the shipments of tannin extract.

Mr. Ferguson further stated that while the demand for Mead products is by no means as insistent as it was a year ago, the Company is still able to operate at a good level and that Management feels confident the results for the year as a whole will be gratifying although it can be expected that costs of operation will be increased.

The present board of directors which includes Charles S. Cheston, Charles W. Deeds, Sydney Ferguson, Clarence Francis, E. T. Gardner, Alfred W. Jones, C. F. Kettering, Robert H. Lee, Al M. Mahrt, Geo. H. Mead, H. T. Mead, D. F. Morris, Murray Smith, H. E. Talbott, N. S. Talbott, C. R. Van de Carr, Jr. and H. E. Whitaker were reelected.

The Directors of The Mead Corporation voted the following dividends on the shares of the Corporation payable June 1st to shareholders of record May 9th—on the 4-4 percent cumulative Preferred shares—$1.06 1/4, on the Common 40 cents.

Seized Plants Are Ordered Returned To Private Owners

Steelworkers Union and the CIO, sought to nip such a move in advance, saying the union already has complied with Taft-Hartley provisions. Murray declared the strike would continue until the workers get a contract along the lines recommended by the Wage Stabilization Board.

Judge Pine strongly indicated in yesterday's decision that the President should invoke Taft-Hartley, which requires an 80-day cooling-off period before a strike can start.

Truman has refused so far to use the Taft-Hartley Act, on the ground that the union already—at his request—has postponed its strike well over 80 days.

But in the light of his declaration that all-out production of steel must be continued or the defense program will break down, he may have to use the law he opposes in the event Justice Department lawyers fail to suspend or upset Judge Pine's ruling.

Pine was to issue a formal injunction—believed the first in American history restraining a Presidential action—this morning.

WASHINGTON—(P)—Bees may be using the belly-dance for "language" purposes, the National Academy of Sciences was told today.

"Wagging the abdomen" was the polite way a scientist put it—but the motion he described is known as the belly-dance in the entertainment world.

Dr. A. L. Kroeber of Columbia University brought up the subject in voicing the theory that the bees may have a true "language"—expressed entirely in "dance-like motions," but limited to food topics.

Kroeber, himself an anthropologist and admittedly no bee expert, said a German scientist named Von Frisch had performed bee experiments which "prove" that bees transmit tips on food to one another by means of such motions.

He said Von Frisch's experiments indicated that when a lady "worker bee" spots some honey, she high-tails it back to the hive and goes into her interpretive dance to tell the other bees about it.

Legislators Get Tough With Prison On Revolt Repairs

session is reconvened. But Porter indicated the lawmakers would be in no mood to await a detailed study "because we won't give them what they want, anyhow."

Eliminated Frills
He said he thought the prison laundry, kitchens, toilets and similar necessities should be restored to working basis—"with the inmates doing the work"—and that burned clothing would have to be replaced. That's all, he said. He said he saw no necessity for restoring the buildings wrecked by fire and vandalism, but that other members might differ with him.

"I believe," said Porter, "we should give them enough money for new laundry equipment and let them install it themselves. If they don't like that they can get a bucket and a plunger and wash their own clothes."

"And there'll be no 'complete law library' replaced," Porter said. "All those men do is use the law library to flood our courts with legal papers and appeals. The man in the street doesn't need a law library. Why should they have one? Let 'em hire a lawyer."

Sociologists May Go
There were indications that Porter's committee was eyeing the 12 "sociologists" or counselors employed at the prison as a good place to cut prison expenses. Porter said "the sociologists have taken over the prison and that's why we had the mess we had."

Porter ordered studies made of where the state budget for next year could be cut to make it balance, in view of Governor Williams' veto of two Republican-sponsored tax bills which were claimed to have balanced the budget when the Legislature went home April 11.

There were indications the Legislature will return in a grim mood due to Williams' rapid vetoes of several of its pet measures and anger over the prison riot.

Legislative leaders still were in doubt as to whether they would work next week, or start the wheels rolling and then return May 14. Constitutionally, bills introduced this week would require 10 days to pass both chambers. However, bills already discarded in committee could be revived and amended and passed finally by Monday.

Continue Hearing On Discovery Bill
The hearing on the bill for discovery presented at yesterday's session of Circuit Court in Iron Mountain by the attorney for defendants, Frank J. and George D. Lindenthal, in the suit for accounting brought by executor of the John P. Norton estate was continued by the court to Friday, May 2, in the Delta county courthouse.

The bill asks permission of the court for the defendants and their attorney to examine the financial records of the Norton estate which are now in the possession of the plaintiff, Atty. James E. Frost, and his counsel, the law firm of McGinn & Fitzharris.

Old Violin Still Used In Orchestra

PASADENA, Calif.—(P)—Stanley Plummer, concertmaster with the Pasadena Civic Orchestra, is using a rare 207-year-old Guadagnini violin.

Plummer, also a music student at Pasadena City College, was loaned the violin by his private teacher, Vera Barstow, former concert violinist.

The instrument was made, Plummer says, in Piacenza, Italy, by J. P. Guadagnini, a genius-craftsman of the 18th Century.

recent months. The figure varies because of fluctuations in overtime and other premium pay. The earnings figure comes from the American Iron and Steel Institute. Some union sources say average earnings are not that high.

Wheeler Steel Corp. was one of the few companies which reported damage to plant facilities as a result of the hasty leave taking of workers.

Furnace Damage Avoided
Murray instructed his men to arrange for stand-by operation of steel plants and most of the workers were glad to obey. They knew that if furnaces were damaged, they would not have jobs to come back to for a long time after the strike ends.

Several companies reported after the confusion cleared away that the shutdown appeared to be proceeding on orderly lines. They included U. S. Steel at Chicago, Great Lakes Steel at Detroit and Republic Steel at Cleveland.

In Chicago, there was a flurry of excitement when pickets kept about 100 supervisory and technical workers out of the Inland Steel plant. The company said, however, that 1,000 others were on duty inside the plant, "more than enough to assure an orderly shutdown," a spokesman added.

"We see no threat to the safety of any part of the plant or the people in it."

Eisenhower Vote In Massachusetts Near Clean Sweep

69 per cent of the entire Republican vote.

3. In a number of cities and towns, he led both the Democratic and Republican tickets. In Boston, Kefauver topped him by 5,835 to 5,061. He beat Taft in the capital by 15,242 to 6,811.

Tabulations from 1874 precincts out of 1739 showed:

REPUBLICANS
Eisenhower—229,900
Taft—99,469
MacArthur—2,120
Warren—1,396
Stassen—1,161

DEMOCRATS
Kefauver—27,629
Eisenhower—15,102
Truman—7,254
Taft—5,423
Dever—2,236
Stevenson—1,230
Russell—645

Some scattered votes also were cast for Sen. Robert Kerr, of Oklahoma, and W. Averell Harriman, of New York, both avowed Democratic candidates, but the totals were not computed.

Delegates Not Bound
The votes were all write-ins and they are not binding on the delegates.

The total vote for both parties broke a Massachusetts primary record that had stood since 1932. It may have been the result of a turn-out of thousands of independent voters, swelling the Republican total beyond any previous mark.

The Massachusetts primary was the eighth election in the Presidential campaign. Eisenhower won in New Hampshire, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts. Taft came out on top in Wisconsin, Nebraska and Illinois. The Minnesota primary went to Harold Stassen, but Eisenhower racked up a towering toll of write-in votes.

Ruark Finds A Model Hotel

By ROBERT C. RUARK
FT. WORTH—I have just run across an unusual operation for this age—a hotel which gives the customer what the customer wants instead of what the hotel wants him to have. This is revolutionary indeed in an age which the customer is adjudged guilty until he proves himself innocent. Man named Hank Green started out as a busboy in the Hotel Dodge a long time ago, and worked in a variety of jobs all over the world, getting sorer and sorer by the day. He managed to get rich via a flock of assorted companies and factories, and he collected some partners and built himself a hotel according to his own idea of right and wrong. Hank's hotel is named the Western Hills. It sprawls on the western outskirts of Ft. Worth and is gayly and neon-lit. It looks rather like a deluxe motel. Which it is, in fact.

But it's 200 rooms are done palatially and spaciouly. It has a huge kidney-shaped, heated swimming pool in its center. Five kinds of air-conditioning keep the rooms at even coolness. Some of the super-suites have woodburning fireplaces, and there is a palm-and-bamboo cabana section on one side of the pool.

Ice Machines Everywhere
One of Hank's pet gripes was the constant ordeal of battling telephone operators and bellboys for such simple needs as ice and water. In the Western Hills there are ice machines within a step or two of every room, and ice-water fountains everywhere.

Green was annoyed for years by the abuse of hotel carpeting, so his halls are clad in rugs which already employed a cigarette-burn and a foodstain design in their patterns. Green also has special kennels for the dogs of guests. He scatters the latest popular novels and magazines throughout all rooms.

During the years he rattled about the hotel business, Green was burning slowly at the restrictions most old-fashioned hostilities impose on their guests. As a result Green's service runs 24 hours a day. A man who wants a full meal at 3 a. m. just picks up the phone and they will speed it over to him in motorcars.

Although Green's monument to his frustration deals in swank—a fancy private bar, dress shops, and a steak bar which allows the customers to select and brand their own slabs of beef—there are no restrictions on dress. "Come as you are" is Green's pet slogan, and you will see people in shirt sleeves or ladies in shorts mixing with dinner jackets and ev-

Few Tip-Grabbers

It is in many respects the finest hotel that I have ever seen anywhere, and it must mark some kind of change in the old, European-management, last-century kind of hotelry with which America has been cursed. In Green's two million dollar experiment in updating a business which is still living in the past, he has largely eliminated the overlapping services which are racks of the itchy-handed tip grabbers.

There is ample free parking, and private outside entrances to most rooms. The establishment is not dominated by the bell desk. It may be called a "motel" by the scornful, but I see nothing wrong with taking the torture out of hotel-living by the elimination of doorman and starters and parking problems.

Green's Western Hills is the first striking sign of concession to changing times that I have seen in the hotel business. I hope some-of the other tavern-tenders of the land have imagination enough to crib a few of his ideas about running a place to suit the customer instead of indulging the hotel's whims at customer expense.

Court Upholds Religious Study

By PAUL M. YOST
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme Court says it's not illegal under the constitution—to let children out of public school for religious training programs.
By a 6-3 decision the high tribunal upheld the validity of New York State's "released time" program, under which pupils are released from classes one hour each week. They go to religious centers away from the school to receive sectarian religious instruction of their parents' choice.
In another major case, the court said states may outlaw "race hatred" literature.
No Hostility to Religion
Before reaching its decision in the religious education case, the court was told by attorneys that many states now use similar "released time" plans and an estimated two million pupils received religious instruction under them.
In New York, if a parent does not wish his child to participate, the child remains in public school for his usual studies.
Justice Douglas, writing the majority opinion, said the constitution's bill of rights does not contain a "philosophy of hostility to religion."
The New York public schools, said Douglas, do no more than accommodate their schedules to a program of outside religious instruction.
"We are a religious people whose institutions presuppose a Supreme Being," Douglas said. "We guarantee the freedom to worship as one chooses. x x x"
Object to Coercion
"When the state encourages religious instruction or cooperates with religious authorities by adjusting the schedule of public events to sectarian needs, it follows the best of our traditions."
"For it then respects the religious nature of our people and accommodates the public service to their spiritual needs. To hold that it may not be to find in the constitution a requirement that the government show a callous indifference to religious groups. That would be preferring those who believe in no religion over those who do believe."
The dissenting justices objected to "coercion" they saw in the program.
"We start down a rough road," said Justice Jackson, "when we begin to mix compulsory public

Birthday Dinner For Oldest Parishioner

ISABELLA—Ed Lindstrom, oldest member of Bethany Lutheran Church at Isabella, was honored at a surprise birthday dinner Sunday, April 27, arranged by members of the congregation and held in the church parlors. He is 83. The Rev. James Almquist, pastor, presented the birthday gift for the parish. An attractively decorated birthday cake made by Mrs. Nick Bonifas, was the table centerpiece.

Widow Is Michigan's Mother Of The Year; Raises 11 Children

DETROIT — (AP) — Michigan's Mother of the Year for 1952 has 11 children.
She has put ten of them through college while helping to manage a hospital on the side and running her home.
She is Mrs. Ella Meinke Kuhn of Lake Angelus in Oakland county, widow of Dr. Charles F. Kuhn, hospital founder here.
Mrs. Kuhn was selected by the Michigan Mothers Committee to represent Michigan at the annual awards luncheon in New York May 9 of the American Mothers Committee.
America's "Mother of 1952" and a "Mother of the World" will be chosen at that time. Mothers from all the United Nations will attend.
The Michigan committee found Mrs. Kuhn, besides being a good mother to her children, has "religious and spiritual integrity" and a "fine sense of civic and international understanding."
Since her husband's death in 1935, Mrs. Kuhn has managed the Warren Diagnostic Hospital on Warren Avenue which he founded here.
Among those receiving honorable mentions in the Michigan award was Mrs. William O. Merrill of Bloomfield Hills, president of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs.
education with compulsory godliness."
Justice Frankfurter, another dissenter, said he favored dismissing classes in their entirety at certain times—"instead of seeking to use the public schools as the instrument for security of attendance at denominational classes."
Justice Black was the third dissenter.

PEOPLE from EVERY PART of MICHIGAN PRAISE O-JIB-WA

Many customers proudly tell us of the wonderful results that they are getting from O-JIB-WA BITTERS. In appreciation, these sufferers from rheumatism, arthritis and stomach trouble relate their experiences below. Their recommendations are offered here as more convincing proof that O-JIB-WA BITTERS is worth your trial.

"I give full credit to O-JIB-WA BITTERS for I no longer have an ache or pain in my body. I sincerely believe that there is no better medicine made. Arthritis made it difficult to get out of bed in the morning and many mornings I had to use crutches to get around at all. O-JIB-WA not only did away with my arthritis, but did wonders for my gas and indigestion as well."

MR. KOEPKE
Detroit

"The dull heavy ache of rheumatism and arthritis in my shoulders and hands kept me awake many nights. It was almost impossible to hold a fork in my hand to feed myself, and I had to give up sewing. After using O-JIB-WA BITTERS just seven weeks, I am living a normal life again free of pain and stiffness."

MRS. KARAS
Flint

"Rheumatism and arthritis in my legs and hips really stiffened me up. Even pumping water was almost impossible, and when I sat in a chair for any length of time, I stiffened up so that it was really hard to get up at all. But O-JIB-WA BITTERS has changed all this. After using it for only a month and a half, I am completely better."

MR. McLEOD
Saginaw

"For 2 1/2 months I couldn't work at all. I was in constant pain, and my ankles swelled up so I couldn't wear shoes. Even walking with a cane was slow and painful. After taking O-JIB-WA BITTERS three weeks the swelling began to go, and in a couple of months the rheumatism left me and I was able to work again."

MR. LARSON
Negaunee

"Before I took O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I suffered with rheumatism through my entire body. Any work was painful and hard, and I was always tired, very nervous and drowsy all day. My medicine really put me on my feet again and I am now working in a convalescent home as well as my own housework. The rheumatism has left me entirely and I feel better in every way."

MRS. MAITLAND
Ludington

"Gas, indigestion and stomach trouble bothered me for six years, and although I tried many medicines, nothing helped me until I used O-JIB-WA BITTERS. It not only eliminated my stomach trouble and gas, but did wonders for my liver and kidneys. I also have a lot more pep and my general health has greatly improved."

Short Potato Supply Likely

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Potatoes, which for the last few years have been so plentiful that thousands of tons have been dumped in fields to rot, may actually be difficult to obtain this year, observes the National Geographic Society.

For the first time since the early 1940's, when wartime demand caused Government encouragement of production, there probably will be no more potatoes available than are needed for American dinner tables.

The 1951 crop is just about consumed, and even the new crop is not going to provide more than enough potatoes to go around. Department of Agriculture experts say that growing conditions will have to be above average for producers to supply the usual U. S. demand.

Price Supports Ended
The Department reports that the expected 1952 planting is but, 1,373,000 acres, compared with 1,379,000 in 1951 and a ten-year average from 1940 through 1949 of 2,564,000 acres.

The acreage drop is due to better production per acre and, in large part, to the end of price supports. The 1951 crop was the first to be harvested without support since the war. Growers no longer have assurance that all the potatoes they produce from allotted acreage will be purchased by the Government.

The vegetable now in short supply is one of the world's basic foods. The white, or Irish, potato is actually a South American plant. Technically, it is not a potato at all.

Misnamed Plant
Early European explorers of the western hemisphere first found sweet potatoes, then widely cultivated by the Indians. The Spaniards adopted the Indian name and called them "batatas."

In 1538 Spanish pioneers in the American highlands discovered the white-meated tuberos plants now known as potatoes. The Incas who cultivated them called them "papas," and the Spaniards adopted the term. But the similarity of the two foods caused the adoption of "batata" to our present "potato."

Actually, the sweet potato is only a distant relative of the white potato. The sweet potato is Ipomoea batatas and a member of the same family as the morning glory. The white potato is the Solanum tuberosum, and is related to nightshade and belladonna.

Use Spread Slowly
The white potato did not achieve immediate popularity after it was taken to Europe by the Spaniards, but gradually its use spread until it became one of the great staple foods. It was particularly successful in northern Europe when failure of other crops forced its cultivation.

In Ireland the potato grew so well and became so popular that it supplanted other vegetables and grains as a basic article of diet. The first white potatoes to be planted in the United States were brought from Ireland, and the name "Irish potato" was coined.

Indirectly the potato was responsible for the immigration of many Irish to North America. Failure of the potato crop in Ireland in 1845 resulted in famine and a great westward movement of population.

Former Escanabans Are Married At Santa Monica

A ceremony in St. Monica's Catholic Church in Santa Monica, Calif., April 24, united in marriage Miss Louise Ann Walker of West Los Angeles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Walker, 530 S. 15th St., Escanaba, and Robert Henry Huckenpahler of El Toro Marine Base, Santa Ana. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huckenpahler, 701 S. 15th St., Escanaba.

Father Maschel solemnized the 3 p. m. service. The church was decorated with large baskets of sweet peas, iris, sunflowers and gladioli.

Bride In White

The bride's white ballerina length gown of nylon and tulle was designed with a fitted bodice and a very full handkerchief skirt. Nylon gauntlets matched the short sleeves. Her headpiece was a satin cloche with silk illusion veiling. She carried white orchids and white iris. Her sister, Mrs. Patrick Kesler, who was matron of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of pale yellow embroidered nylon net with a fitted bodice and full skirt detailed with a side panel of fluted nylon. She wore a floral headpiece which matched her bouquet.

David Leighton served as best man.

Mrs. Walker selected an aqua afternoon dress with rhinestone button trim for her daughter's wedding. Her hat and gloves were pink. The bridegroom's mother wore a tailored champagne doeskin suit with dacia accessories.

The reception was held at the Wilshire Hotel in Santa Monica. The wedding cake was decorated with pastel flowers and topped with a large wedding bell which held tiny pink roses and white sweet peas with an arrangement of ferns.

Guests At Wedding

Following a honeymoon on Catalina Island the newlyweds will live at 10122 1/2 Stilson St. in West Los Angeles.

The bride is a graduate of the Northwest Institute of Medical Technology in Minneapolis. Mr. Huckenpahler is a graduate of Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, where he was a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. George Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huckenpahler and Mrs. Joseph Poffenberger, Escanaba; Miss Doris Nolden, West Los Angeles; Patrick Kesler, Los Angeles; Mrs. E. Tait, Schoenbush, Portuguese Bend; Cecilia Schenck, Topanga Canyon; Dr. Milton Rosenthal, West Los Angeles; Betty Vanaka and Ruby Barnett, Los Angeles; Robert MacDonald, El Segundo; Gordon Paulson, Beverly Hills; Lois Murken, Hollywood; Dewey Paulson, Camp Cooke; Mrs. Fred Leighton, Pasadena; and Donald Hamilton and Robert Johnston, El Toro.

AS WE LIVE

Use Energy To Decorate — Then Bring Boy Home

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.
A girl's home is her "setting." It is the background which reflects the kind of family she has and the kind of upbringing she has had to mold her into the person she is today. Girls soon become aware of this. And, when they begin to have dates, they know the boys judge them by their homes and compare their home with those of the other girls they date. Consequently, the girl has reason to be concerned if her home setting does not measure up favorably with that of other girls. This problem is reflected in the following letter from an 18-year-old girl.

(Q) "I'm ashamed of my home. I have gone out with many boys but I always meet them outside. Mom, Dad, and I are the only ones at home now and I try to buy things out of my pay to make the house look nice, but it never does. We haven't even a parlor set. I like a boy now and I know he is well-to-do and has a nice house. I would like him to meet my parents as they are wonderful people, but I'm ashamed to bring him home. What shall I do?"

If you are ashamed of your home, you would be so ill-at-ease if you brought this boy to meet your parents that it would be awkward for all concerned. At the same time, you do not want to continue to meet boys away from your home. It will create an unfavorable and unfair impression of you and your family.

It does not take much money to make a home attractive. If you and your family are willing to pitch in and work as a team, with a few dollars and a week or two of hard work, you should be able to transform your home so that even you would not recognize it.

Start with the front hall and the living room. That is where a boy would be when he came to see you. Then, later, as time and money permit, you can fix up the dining room and the bedrooms.

There are plenty of attractive papers and paints that can be applied by an amateur. No matter how shabby your furniture, it can be covered with bright slip covers to harmonize with the paper. A pattern, some inexpensive material, and willingness to work is all you need to do the job. And, even an amateur can make attractive window draperies.

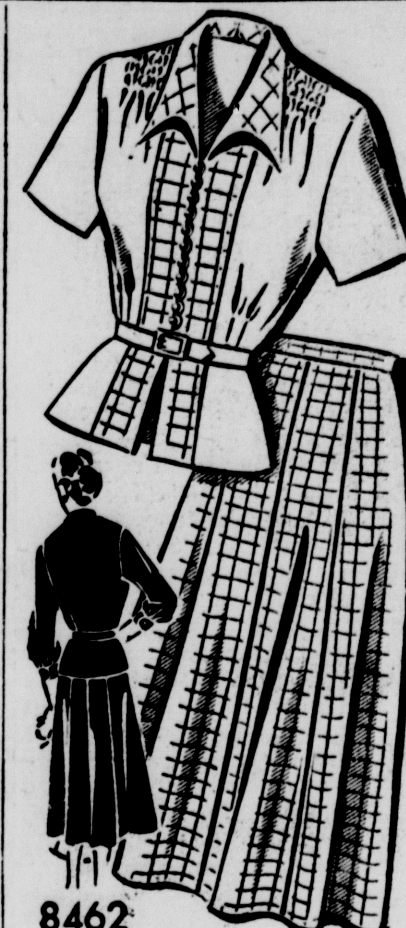

Boys don't notice details. If a room is bright, cheerful, and in good taste, they carry away with them a favorable impression of it. I can assure you that your friend would never notice the quality of the material or of the workmanship if the total effect of the room was good.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

P. E. O. Chapter Meets Thursday

The P. E. O. Sisterhood will meet Thursday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Oliver V. Thatcher with Mrs. W. W. Oliver and Miss Grace McCall as assisting hostesses. Mrs. R. W. Haddock and Mrs. H. G. Wescott of Gladstone, delegates to the state convention in Saginaw April 17-19, will give the convention report.

Oatmeal Layer Cookies

Ingredients: 1 cup sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 1 cup beet or cane sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 cup milk, 2 1/2 cups rolled oats, jam.

Method: Sift together flour, baking soda, and salt. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg well. Stir in sifted dry ingredients and rolled oats alternately with milk. Divide dough in half. For each half: spread dough on ungreased cookie sheet in 8 1/2 x 12-inch rectangle, about 1/8-inch thick; keep the dough about 1/4-inch from edges of cookie sheet. Bake in hot (400F.) oven about 10 minutes, or until edges turn golden-brown. Remove from oven; cut each rectangle in half. Lift onto waxed-paper covered work surface; spread with jam. Top with other half, sandwich-fashion. Cut with a sharp knife in oblong cookies about 1 1/2 x 2 1/4-inches. Makes about 3 dozen. Store in tightly covered container.

Wall Paper Patterns Add Beauty

Today's wallpapers are cued to furnishings of every type. Bedroom of ranch-type house (above) gets paper in small all-over design to blend with and provide suitable background for furniture. Accessories can be in pottery, pewter and wood. For Early American home lower center) there's wallpaper in simple floral design, harmonizing with simple furniture and pewter accessories, hanging spice boxes.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The present trend to more wall decoration, after years of stark, bare walls, brings wall paper sharply into focus once more. And in the 1952 wall paper trends, color is a highlight.

Deep tones are stressed in papers keyed to furnishings in every period. Small-scale scenic and toile types are shown for formal interiors while delicate Oriental motifs traced on backgrounds of celadon green, grey, honey beige or carbon black are meant expressly for the traditional home.

Provincial patterns have been smartened up this year. Those that simulate fabrics look especially right with provincial furniture and similarly, papers in calico and gingham designs provide a proper setting for Early American pieces. One Pennsylvania Dutch pattern that's both fresh and sophisticated has a chocolate background against which the traditional figures are sketched free-hand style.

The popularity of clean-lined modern furniture is on the increase. For it, there are geometrics and abstract designs in the new dark shades. These create a third-dimensional feeling. And for tailored types, papers have been done in modernistic architectural motifs, alternating neutral shades with deep tones for a monochromatic effect.

The old favorite damasks, florals and small all-over designs are still with us. But they've taken on a new and different look through the use of dashing color combinations. Florals frequently appear against sophisticated black and charcoal backgrounds and once-neutral damasks bloom rich with color.

Striped wall paper, the backbone of much home decorating for a good many years, has new life in designs with a decorative meaning. Sometimes, the stripes are varied in width to create a colonnade effect. Or, they're narrow as a pin and done up in the freshness of navy blue and white.

The textured look, so important to home decoration, appears in wall papers, too. Sometimes it's a grained and woven surface with a tweedy appearance. With this look, there's color. Lots of it. Gold, silver and copper, increasingly popular, give these papers the Midas touch.

Attendance at the preceding lectures has been over 250 each night and an equally large attendance is expected Thursday.

Flowers Favorite Subject Of Artist

GUELPH, Ont. —(P)—"When you paint flowers, it's always spring."

So says Effie Smith, 82-year-old self-taught painter of flowers.

"Personally, I like lilacs. But pansies are the favorite," she said in an interview.

She estimates she has done 1,500 paintings of flowers, from the lowly daisy to the exotic orchid. She started in 1932 and for years has sold the pictures.

"I commune with nature by studying a spray of flowers on a table. My sister keeps tab on orders from all parts of the continent."

She had a brief fling at modern painting. She did fine with it but gave it up.

"I went back to flowers," she said. "Surrealism has its points but everybody understands a rose."

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES

WANT a man gear broke trying to bluff with two queens. You'll have more than two queens in your hand when you don a sport coat and shirt from Young's Ribbons! Now the girls high when they see you in an all wool sport coat fashioned from fine flannel, worsted, or gabardine. Some of the gals cut in the casual style. Colors and interesting novelty weaves. Gabardine sport shirts by Arrow in striking plaids and small houndstooth checks come in many colors and all sizes. Be a sport and stop in at Young's this week to call for a new deal in shirts and coats.

LOOKING at the new nylon purses in the Fall Show. I was reminded that Mother's Day would be a good time to have Mom holding the bag! If it's one of these smart washable nylon pouches, she'll not complain! They pull together with a sturdy drawstring and come in such attractive colors — pink, blue, aqua, navy, black and brown. Only $3.99 for one of these Mountain Bag! Look for them on the first floor at the Fair Store. When you're out hunting for a Mother's Day gift, big one of these for your Mom!

AND then there was the pro-fusion who was dishing — he wanted to win the nobility prize! Of course man is vain creature — and it starts young! So when you're considering graduation gifts for any young man, be sure to see the constant array of man's jewelry at Garwood Jeweler. Cuff links with unusual settings include miniature trout fish set under crystal for the fishing enthusiast. Other clever styles for the golfer, gardener etc. I liked the new shorty tie clip in sleek silver, and the smart personalized links and clips with double initials set in. You can't tie their clips — they beat any I've seen. But Garwood's is no clip joint!

I ALWAYS thought it was "three to get ready," but it's just "Three-To Go." That's because you're all set and you have this charming packet of three pajamas. Three pajamas! These are pure fun and hold a full dress suit. There's Broadway — an exotic must with real cash; Pajamas; Pajamas; Pajamas. For the out of the ordinary burlesque; The French Touch is very new in it! Can you think of any other way to spend 30 on pajamas... or yourself? Stop in at Garwood's men for these new pajamas that are packaged to look like your handkerchiefs. They're brand new!

IT'S better to have loved a shirt than never to have loved a shirt. You'll love your daughter in shorts from The Mountain Shop. Shorts and yodel pushers in the newest plaids and solid colors are made from fine marcellus, denim, and cotton twill. Made 3 to 6x and 7 to 14. An ensemble in sizes 4, 6 and 8 includes a gay print shirt, matching shorts, and a full skirt that lets little sister be a quick change artist. Also now at Garwood's are the sharp new plaid Jockey-straight shirts with a zipper machine. They have cuffs three quarters sleeves and you wear them as pajamas. Don't leave your daughter to a small shirt. She can dress smartly for her 10th birthday!

WHEN a married man dreams of a bachelor it's a sign he's going to be disappointed when he wakes up! A girl's fondest dream is to own a Tommiecoat and she won't be disappointed if you point to wake up and find she's wearing these marvelous pajamas. Garwood's have these new pajama sets that include a gay plaid coat with cuffs and collar in the solid color of the pajamas underneath. What a superb gift for the girl graduate! Tommiecoats are made proportion wise, too. Tall Tommiecoats for girls of every height. If you want to give your girl pleasant dreams, buy her these pajamas at Garwood's.

WHEN you have been noted for your age, honey, you'll find a cotton frock that suits you at the Pajama Summer Dress Carnival! It starts tomorrow! There are so many sweet new styles to choose from and the little price is just $9.99! I saw smart woven cotton plaids and crisp chambrays. One navy and red plaid has white pique trim at the sleeves and neckline. A brown and white tab cloth check buttons down the front and has an unusual double collar. Stop at Pajama's and try one on for size! A sizeable addition to your summer wardrobe!

OVERHEARD a fellow announcing someone by saying — "If he had his conscience taken out it would be a minor operation!" Are you planning a major operation this spring — a building operation? Then I have nothing but the best to say about the Stephensman Lumber Company when I advise you to use them. Their building supplies are really top notch, and what's more, you get the kind of friendly service that makes buying a pleasure. They can diagnose building trouble and prescribe all kinds of new building ideas. So stop in at Stephensman's lumber store if you want to get that house of yours — Stephensman's!

Israel Reaches Fourth Milestone---

During her first four years Israel has doubled her population. Some 600,000 immigrants from 60 countries, mainly from Europe, have swelled her total to 1,600,000 people.

To protect herself from external aggression a defense force was created in 1948. Two years' military service is compulsory for all men 18-29, and single women 18-26 years of age.

Principal crops of this agricultural country are citrus fruits, wheat, olives and figs. The area under cultivation during 1951 was 950,000 acres — a rise of 700,000 acres in four years.

Industry has outstripped all other endeavors since 1947. Across the country more than 3000 new plants have been set up. Workers engaged in industry have doubled in this period.

The growing of citrus fruits is the most lucrative business. This item is used chiefly in foreign commerce to bring needed capital into the country to bolster a weak economy.

A democratic nation, Israel has been recognized by 61 nations and was elected to the UN in 1949. Her foreign policy is based on mutual aid with every peace-loving state.

Danforth 4-H Club Presents Program

DANFORTH—The Danforth 4-H Sewing Club held an Achievement Day program with a dress revue at the Danforth School Saturday evening. The girls modeled the clothes they made during the winter months.

Members of the club are: Carol Irving, Charlene Chailier, Nancy and Joyce Stonecliff, Shirley Dubord, Arlene Gardiner, Carol, Lorraine, Geraldine and LaVerne LaMarche and Bertha Lee Johnson. The leader is Mrs. Art Anderson and junior leader is Geraldine LaMarche.

The program numbers included club chorus singing "A Place in the Sun"; a duet, "Down the Trail of Aching Hearts"; Carol Irving and Charlene Chailier; solos, "I Can't Help It" and "It Is No Secret" by Shirley Dubord; and several songs by Jean Hereaux. Music for dancing was played by Lloyd Sodergren Jr. and Orville Lantagne.

Guests were Miss Ingrid Torvonen, home demonstration agent, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heirman and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bernhardt. Lunch was served at the close of the program.

Briefs
Mrs. Peter Larson left Sunday morning for Milwaukee to visit her daughters, Mrs. Jack Zipel and Mrs. John Nicholas.

In Medieval English the word "trade" meant "path" and was similar to the word "tread."

Horseback Speeders Set Free By Judge

NEW YORK — (AP)—Two young Englishmen charged with reckless horseback riding in Brooklyn's Prospect Park were free men today because of a friendly judge. Police told Magistrate's court yesterday that the two men, Peter Laker, 25, and Clifford Lister, 24, both agents of the Cunard Steamship line, were clocked galloping at 25 miles an hour through the park.

Protested Lister: "The beast I was riding was well into his eight year and if we were doing 20 miles an hour it was a bit of a miracle." "Case dismissed," ruled Magistrate Matthew F. Fagan, "in the interest of international friendship."

Grand Marais

Birthday Parties

GRAND MARAIS — Dawn Ostrander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sayre Ostrander celebrated her 11th birthday anniversary with a party in her honor, held at their cabin on AuSable Lake. Another birthday celebrated at the party was that of Mrs. Ethel Hill. Guests attending were Diane and Charles Ylimaki, Danny and Sandra Hill, Helen Picel, Joan Nyman, Betty Nettleton, Rhea and Jacolyn Ostrander and Mr. and Mrs. Blake Towle. Following games and entertainment a weiner roast was held.

Bobby Ottenhoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ottenhoff celebrated his 8th birthday anniversary Friday, April 25, with a party at his home. Friends attending were David and Brian Carter, Norbert and Raymond Drust, Bobby Newberg, Roger Abrahamson, Billy Gauthier, David Nyman, Harvey Mattson, Johnny Newberg, Chuckie LaCombe and Billy Ottenhoff. Following games, ice cream and cake was served.

School Notes
A May day program will be held May 1 with the first, second and kindergarten participating. The program will be held in the afternoon, outside if the weather permits.

The High School Band has started practicing marching and can be heard out on the streets on nice days. Assisting Mrs. Mixon, the music director, is Donald Hendricks, faculty member.

Smelt Run Is On
For the second consecutive year Grand Marais is having a smelt run in Carpenter Creek. Although the smelt are not too plentiful the smelt dippers are and the young and old with nets of all descriptions can be seen there. Last year was the first smelt were ever known to run in any number here.

Start Yelling Kid...

you already owe $1733.33

That's your share of the national debt of $260,000,000,000! Yell—you've got plenty to holler about. The cost is $1,733.33 apiece for every man, woman and child in the United States . . . including you KID!

Of course, your dad will have to pay your share for a while. If he's an average fellow, he will pay the Federal Government about 28% of all he earns.

But your turn is coming. And there's another item . . . our 1952 Federal budget. It amounts to 85 billion dollars more. Your share of that is another $567 . . . just for this year. Your generation will have quite a bill to pay. And remember: the difference between a million and a billion is the same difference as between a penny and a $10 bill.

Being born into this mess, you might well ask, "How come?"

Frankly, it's this way: We haven't run things too well. We've overspent our government income for 17 out of the past 20 years. We've given away billions, squandered money on all kinds of schemes, created "emergencies," kidded ourselves trying to spend our way to prosperity. We've cheapened our money . . . set an all-time record for government waste and inefficiency. Frankly, we just haven't been able to stop.

If you and your generation will yell loud enough, perhaps your dad and mother . . . and enough of the rest of us . . . will "stop, look and listen"—register . . . and then vote.

Teeth Stop Bullet

NEW YORK — (AP)—The manager of a Rockefeller Center restaurant, shot in the mouth by a young bandit who escaped with about $225, was minus several false teeth but otherwise virtually unhurt. Roosevelt Hospital reported the manager, John Hudson, 46, suffered only a superficial wound in the holdup, apparently because his false teeth stopped the bullet.

Lighting Of 9th Set At $13,000

Lighting of Ninth street from the Buckeye hill to South Tenth street will cost approximately $13,000 dollars, according to an estimate given the city commission Monday night by City Manager H. J. Hendrikson.

The estimate was given at the request of the commission which previously had been requested by the Chamber of Commerce to provide mercury vapor lighting on this stretch.

Purchase of a carload of calcium chloride was authorized by the commission and the dust settling material will be placed on local dirt roads as soon as received.

The commission authorized Bernard DeHooghe, sewage treatment plant operator, to attend the annual convention of operators to be held at Traverse City May 19-21.

A request was made for blacktopping of Montana and Dakota avenues for several blocks east of 9th street and petitions are being prepared which can be circulated among property owners in the prescribed areas.

The commission approved furnishing of power to a party on the North Bluff by the Upper Michigan Power and Light Co.

Application for a renewal of tavern license for Girard and Gertrude Broeder was approved.

In 1804, Alexander Hamilton, then governor of New York, was killed in a duel at Weehauken, N. J., with Aaron Burr, then vice-president of the United States.

$115,000 Tentative Budget Adopted By Board Of Supervisors

A tentative budget of $115,000 was adopted by the Schoolcraft County Board of Supervisors yesterday morning at the concluding session of its annual spring meeting.

The budget will be reviewed and made permanent at a meeting next October. Last year's actual budget was $101,681.57 and actual expenditures totaled $104,198.44.

The tentative budget follows: Social welfare, $33,000. Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, $5,000.

Defer Action On Labor Contract

A proposed new labor contract with Local 1196, Union of State, County and Municipal Employees, was examined and discussed by the City Council at its regular meeting Monday night but final action on it was deferred pending additional study.

The new contract, which would run for two years from May 1, 1952, was drawn up at a meeting between union representatives and the council's labor committee composed of Walter Burns and A. W. Heitman.

Tentatively, it provides for a six cent an hour increase in wages for hourly employees, would add Thanksgiving Day to the list of holidays and would offer the alternative of overall group insurance coverage in place of the six cent hourly wage increase. The new agreement also stipulates the length of working days, starting and quitting times, and provides for overtime.

Councilmen also took under advisement a petition signed by 17 salaried city employees asking for an increase in pay comparable to that proposed for hourly workers.

It was decided to take up the matter of both wage and salary increases and any changes in the labor contract at a later special meeting and to make whatever agreement is reached retroactive to May 1, 1952.

Engineering Study Group Meets With Local Leaders On Industrial Potentials

A preliminary discussion of Manistique's industrial potentials highlighted a dinner meeting at Denny's Monday evening, attended by an engineering study group sponsored by the Michigan Department of Economic Development and various local civic and industrial leaders.

The group, now on a study tour of 10 Upper Peninsula communities, included W. F. Rooney, of New York City, representing Ebasco Services which has been engaged to conduct the economic study; Charles N. Drake and Ray McLeod, of the Detroit Edison Company; Edward Vandenberg, of the University of Michigan; A. W. Toole, of Michigan College of Mining and Technology, Houghton; A. C. Hornberger, of the Michigan Department of Economic Development, Lansing; Arnie Irvast, of Houghton, Upper Peninsula field representative of the economic development department; and William Cargo, of Marquette, representing Michigan State College extension service.

Study Explained—Purpose of the study was explained by Irvast who said it was carrying out one of two recommendations recently made by an Upper Peninsula advisory committee of the state economic development organization.

It is a cooperative effort, he pointed out, with the University of Michigan, Michigan State College, Michigan College of Mining and Technology and the Detroit Edison firm collaborating in a program to ascertain industrial potentials of the state.

Rooney, who explained the background of Ebasco and its qualifications to make such an engineering study, said that this week's program of meetings in the Upper Peninsula is designed primarily to acclimatize himself and his group to the area and to meet leaders in various communities.

Ebasco, he said, is a group of 1,700 business specialists of all types. The service is qualified to undertake any type of engineering study, and has been carrying out a successful schedule of industrial and civic surveys for several years.

Cultural Facilities Important—Some of the studies made by the service, he said, included a parcel post survey for Macy's of New York, an air conditioning study for General Electric, and a power study now underway in Ishpeming for the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Company.

"We are management engineers," he told the group, "and can be impersonal and objective in our work."

Rooney said that a community group in listing its industrial potentials should also recognize its industrial disadvantages. He stressed the importance of co-operating, rather than competing, with neighboring communities in

Softball Loop Meets Thursday

Formal reorganization of the Manistique Softball Association and the making of final plans for the 1952 season will take place at a meeting of team captains and team representatives at 7 p. m. Thursday at the city hall, it is announced by T. M. Reque, city recreation director.

Full authority to direct activities of the league was granted to a board of team managers at a meeting Monday evening at the fire hall.

Seb Rubick was named chairman of the board and given authority to select an umpire-in-chief for the season. The umpire-in-chief will make umpire assignments for various league games.

Softballers at the meeting also adopted National Softball Association rules for the local league, and authorized the board of managers to establish ground rules.

The following teams are expected to re-enter the league this season: VFW, CYO, Christy's, Old Timers, Inland and National Guards. Practice is to begin immediately.

Full membership of the board of managers will not be known until after the meeting Thursday night.

In This Corner

With Roy Crandall

Manistique's CYO boxing team ran up quite a record in the squared circle this season. Beginning with the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves tournaments here in Escanaba, the Manistique boys coached by Ed Toyra have dominated amateur boxing not only throughout the U. P. but the state of Wisconsin as well. The boys won the open division team title in Milwaukee Golden Gloves tournament as representatives of the U. P. They were assisted by one Soo fighter. And in their final appearance of the season at Green Bay on a Moose Lodge card last Saturday they won three of four bouts. Wayne Tunnell, the only loser, is the Wisconsin and U. P. open division lightweight champ. His training for the Green Bay bout was seriously handicapped by a hand injury which prevented him from sparring for the past couple of weeks.

Herb Levin, sports writer for the Soo Evening News, gave us a plug on the Cleveland Indians' baseball tryout camp slated for Escanaba this summer. But it went astray. In his column "Speaking of Sports" Levin said: "Escanaba opens its doors to the first football tryout camp ever to be held."

This year's state championship American Legion Junior baseball tournament will be held at Lansing. The title tourney was moved above the Straits for the first time last summer when it was run off at Iron River. The tourney opens in Lansing on Aug. 1. The Little League state tournament will be held in Michigan on Aug. 4, but no site has been selected as yet. Escanaba's entry won the state Little League crown last season.

Speaking of Little League, here's a humorous incident related by Carl Stotz, national commissioner who conferred here with the game's backers last fall: One little tyke was trying out for a position on a team in Milford, Mass. He was asked by a manager if he was an outfielder. "Naw," the youth replied proudly, "I'm Italian."

Little League Tryout Is Set For Saturday

First call for Little League baseball candidates was issued today. The tryout date for boys age 8, 9 and 10 is Saturday. Kids will perform at the Royce Park diamond starting at 2 in the afternoon. Candidates are reminded that they must be registered at Club 314 before the tryouts. Little League tryouts are slated at which all youngsters get a chance to show their stuff before team managers, who then evaluate the players for future reference when they begin bidding for players to make up their teams. Managers will view the 8-10 age

Derby Has Old Familiar Look

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—The 78th Kentucky Derby looked very much like some derbies of other years today with the combination of a Calumet-owned horse, Trainer Ben Jones and Jockey Eddie Arcaro playing the familiar favorite's role. The combine moved front and center for the $100,000 added run around Churchill Downs at 4:30 p. m., EST Saturday when Hill Gail took wings yesterday and fairly flew over a mile to smash the track record in the Derby trial. With Arcaro merely flicking his whip in Hill Gail's face, the big son of Bull Lea reeled off the mile in 1:36 3/5 to clip one-fifth second off the track standard and leave eight other Derby eligibles far up the track. The closest, Mrs. Gordon Guiberson's California-owned Aroz was five lengths back. And some 42 lengths back came no less a well-rated candidate than Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Temperamental Cousin—blowing his last chance to prove his right to be in the Derby post parade. As a result of the prep, the odds on Hill Gail dropped to 8-5 today and he may go to the post at even shorter odds. The race this year will be televised nationally for the first time and carried on a nation-wide hook-up by the Columbia Broadcasting Company.

Highland Golf Club Opens For 1952 Season Tomorrow

With the playing course in good condition and the greens in use, Highland Golf Club opens the 1952 season tomorrow it was announced this morning by Hazen Hengesh, president.

"We're opening the season tomorrow and we have a chore for members tomorrow evening," Hengesh said. "A painting bee will be held starting at 6 tomorrow evening. Members are to bring their own brushes. We're going to give the outside of the clubhouse a new paint job to start the season."

Interior of the clubhouse has been redecorated for the season. The social schedule will be announced at a future date. Hengesh said.

As for the course, it is in good condition with the dry spring weather. More drainage ditches

Billy Goat Teams First And Second In Booster Class

GLADSTONE—Two Billy Goat teams, from Nahma and Gladstone, swept into first place in the booster team division of the Upper Peninsula Bowling Association tournament here last night. The Nahma Billies banged out 2634 for first while their namesakes from Gladstone clipped 2582 for second. Northern Lites of Munising took sixth in the same division with 2479.

In the only other change last night Francis Lynch of Gladstone added a 529 team event score to his top 676 singles count for 1748 in the all-events, good for second place. The sluggers are scheduled for a 10-round bout. The referees stopped Saxton's last two bouts, both on the (CBS) television and radio networks carrying this (9 p. m. EST) fight. The "no contest" opponents were Livio Minelli and Lester Felton.

Judge Rips Coach And College In Latest Cage 'Fix' Scandal

NEW YORK—Three former University of Kentucky basketball stars accused of fixing games were free on probation today, but coach Adolph Rupp—the famed baron of the Bluegrass—was hit with the full impact of the college court scandal. General Sessions Judge Saul S. Shreit castigated Rupp and University of Kentucky officials as having to share the "responsibility for corrupting and demoralizing" the three ex-players. On the recommendation of the district attorney, Shreit suspended sentences for Alex Groza, Ralph Beard and Dale Barnstable but placed them on indefinite probation. In a withering attack on Kentucky, Rupp and college athletics in general, Shreit said of the coach who had led Kentucky court teams to great heights: "The undisputed facts are that he aided and abetted in the immoral subsidization of the players. With his knowledge, the charges in his care were openly exploited, their physical welfare was neglected, and he utterly failed to build their characters or instill any morals—indeed if he did not impair them."

Council On College Athletics To Meet

CHICAGO—(AP)—The American Council on Education assemblies Friday and Saturday in its first full meeting since its executive committee proposed sweeping collegiate athletic reforms in February. At the time the executive committee unanimously approved a plan calling for, among other things, abolition of athletic scholarships, spring football practice and Bowl games, it was announced that group had full authority to act for the council. Whether any formal action by the full membership will be forthcoming may depend upon developments in Friday's scheduled day-long discussion on "improving administration of intercollegiate athletics." Delay Action Officials of the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conferences met in Chicago Monday and consolidated ideas on the A. C. E. athletic program. They agreed to delay action through 1952 on post-season games and length of athletic seasons "pending the receipt of reports from the special committees of the NCAA which are studying them." The reports are expected early in 1953. The Big Ten-PCC Rose Bowl football pact expires with the 1954 New Year's day game. The A. C. E. already has okayed post season games currently under contract until the commitments have been fulfilled. The main A. C. E. speaker in the athletic section meeting Friday will be John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, who headed a special committee which devolved the athletic curb program approved by the executive committee. Hannah's subject will be "basic objectives of sound athletics policy." After Hannah speaks, six "consultants" are scheduled to make "brief" remarks. Too Stringent Some of these remarks could be in the nature of rebuttal to the A. C. E. program, regarded in some quarters as much too stringent. Hugh Willett, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, is to explain "The NCAA program for promoting high athletic standards." The NCAA has contended that for practical purposes its own code is about as strict as athletic controls can go without killing off sports entirely. It permits only 20 spring football sessions, a limit that has many coaches moaning. The NCAA also is studying post-season competition with the view that rigid control rather than abolishment is necessary. Other consultants will report how coaches feel about the A. C. E.'s athletic policy, the sports writers' slant on intercollegiate athletics, and the viewpoint of accrediting associations. One of the consultants will be Charles P. Sempler, principal at Benton Harbor, Mich., high school and president of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations. Sempler will discuss how secondary schools view college athletic practices.

Tri County Loop To Open May 11; Felch New Member

Felch became the 10th team in the Tri County baseball league at a final reorganizational meeting held in Wilson last night. The Felch team replaces Powers - Spalding which withdrew from the Tri County circuit because of difficulty in fielding a full team of players. The new entry is a neighboring town to Foster City, also a Tri County club. Other members are Escanaba, Hermansville, Bark River, Stephenson, Wilson, Wallace, Daggett and Perronville. Sunday Games Board of directors of the league voted to play only Sunday games again this season. There had been considerable thought given to scheduling mid-week games in the league in order to speed the lengthy schedule necessary for a 10-team circuit. Opening day games are scheduled for Sunday, May 11, a week and a half away. The league adopted the same schedule of games as was used last season, with home sites reversed in both halves. Felch will fill in the dates scheduled last season by Powers. Buy Balls A representative of the Denis Sport Shop of Green Bay attended the meeting and the board of directors ordered 20 dozen baseballs at $26 per dozen from the firm. The company will also furnish two league trophies. Jack Beck, manager of the Escanaba Bears, announced this morning that arrangements will have to be made to fill in on the team for high school players who will not be eligible to play until the prep baseball season ends. He said he will ask veteran players to help by playing the first several games on the schedule. Escanaba's slate opens against Bark River at the Barks' diamond.

Powers Drops Debut In Little Six To Florence

POWERS—Coach Zig Shesky's Powers Tigers made their first start in the Little Six conference yesterday and came out with a 5-4 extra inning baseball loss to Florence. The Tigers trailed 3-2 going into the bottom of the fifth when they pushed a run across to knot it up. There was no scoring until the first of the eighth when Florence scored twice. Jim Taylor went the distance for Florence and tamed the Tigers with four hits. He fanned 15 and walked six. John Henderson tossed six in-

Louisville Keeps Association Lead

(By The Associated Press) Louisville retained first place in the American Association Tuesday night and second-place Milwaukee failed to gain ground as both clubs were handed defeats. The Indianapolis Indians broke a five-game losing streak in shading the Colonels 4-3. Al Ciootte, young Kansas City righthander, shackled Milwaukee 5-1 with a five hitter. The Brewers' only run was unearned. Toledo downed last-place Columbus 7-5 as outfielder Red McQuillen slapped five hits in as many trips. The slugging veteran got three of his safeties off starter Bill Allen and helped chase the rookie left in a four-run Toledo seventh. Each team collected three home runs as Minneapolis trimmed St. Paul 7-4.

S-BALL PRACTICE The White Birch softball team will practice Thursday evening at 6:30 at the Flat Rock diamond. All interested players are invited to take part in the practice session. Hialeah race track showed an increase of 14 1/2 per cent in handle and 12 per cent in attendance for the first 15 days of its meeting this winter.

Trojans Tipped By Bark River

The Bark River Broncos banged out eight hits and scored eight runs here yesterday in beating the Trojans of St. Joe 8-6. Bark River gained its edge in a four run fourth in which three St. Joe errors kept the Trojans in difficulty. Billy Vincent went the route for the winners and allowed six hits while fanning nine. St. Joe pitching duties were shared by Dick Cass and John Martinac. They fanned seven between them. St. Joe is host to Cooks and Powers Sunday afternoon in a double header at 1:30 and 3. Box score:

Louise Suggs Rips Par In Stockton

STOCKTON, Calif. — (AP) — Smooth stroking Louise Suggs smashed the women's course record with a 72 to win the one-day Stockton women's open golf tournament yesterday. Miss Suggs, Carrollton, Ga., pro, made it in 36-36, two strokes under women's par 74. Her victory was worth $375. Marlene and Alice Bauer, sisters from Sarasota, Fla., and Shirley Spork of Minneapolis tied for second with 74s. Five shared fifth place with 76s, including Babe Zaharias of Tampa, Fla. RIGHT TRACK ODESSA, Tex. — (AP) — Joe Childress comes up to his final season in high school track with a most amazing record—and he's rather doubtful that he can surpass it. Joe has been running since he was in the fifth grade and has lost only three races. Twice he has been state champion in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. His best time in the 100 was 9.6 and in the 220 it was 21.1. Stan Miasek of the Baltimore Bullets in the NBA was once a member of the Detroit Tiger farm system but gave it up for basketball.

Simmons Hurls Win In First Post-Army Start

By WILL GRIMSLEY

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Cold and rain continued to paralyze baseball in the east and a strike threatened to black out a park in the west but followers of the Philadelphia Phillies could find no gloom anywhere today.

—Curt Simmons is back and he's in the groove.

The hard-throwing, 22-year-old left-hander, three weeks out of the Army, made his first major league start in 19 months yesterday and proceeded to tame the Chicago Cubs with a smooth seven-hit performance, 8-2.

He didn't look any different from the trim, young southpaw whose blazing fast ball won 17 games for the Phillies and helped

Final Game For Williams Today

BOSTON.—(P)—For the second time in 10 years Ted Williams, latest of the major league's 400-hitters, today doffs his Boston Red Sox uniform for that of a U. S. Marine flyer.

But before so doing, Williams will be honored by 35,000 admirers who will jam Fenway Park for his farewell appearance against the Detroit Tigers. They will shower him with modest gifts.

Among them are a large stack of "Memory Books" that include the signatures of about 500,000 well-wishers, a collection made by the Boston Herald-Traveler.

Other gifts are a wrist watch, flowers for his wife, toys for his small daughter, a film projector from his Red Sox teammates and a silver bowl from Mayor John B. Hynes of Boston.

Now 33, Williams reports for a 17-month tour of duty as a captain at Willow Grove, Pa., on Friday. He will be out of baseball until the 1954 season.

"I don't know whether or not I will be able to return to baseball but I hope so," Williams said.

Plans Changes In Spartan Lineup

EAST LANSING.—(P)—Coach John Kobs planned some drastic changes in his Michigan State baseball lineup this weekend in an attempt to get the Spartans out of their hitting slump.

Michigan State plays Minnesota at Minneapolis in a single game Friday and Iowa at Iowa City in a double-header Saturday.

Shortstop Stan Turner of Flint and outfielder Jack Mayes of London, Ont., both freshmen, will be added to the travelling roster. Jack Zeitler, Buffalo, N. Y., sophomore, will replace Wayne Lawrie of Highland Park at third base. Corky Ghise, Dearborn senior, will be at second base in place of Jack Hofstetter of Detroit.

Freshman Chuck Matthews of Rosebush, Mich., will alternate at first base with Bob Ciolek, the regular at the position.

Don Quayle, Oxford, Mich., southpaw, will be the probable pitcher Friday.

lead them to the National league pennant before Uncle Sam snatched him up in September, 1950.

Baumholtz Blanked
Manager Eddie Sawyer couldn't hide his pleasure and enthusiasm hit a new high in the Phillies' ranks.

Simmons' effectiveness was emphasized by the job he did on Frankie Baumholtz, the Cubs' rightfielder who had hit in 11 straight games and had carried a .422 percentage, into the game. Baumholtz didn't get a smell of the ball in four times at bat.

In the season's first head-on collision of east and west, the favored Brooklyn Dodgers strengthened their grip on the National league lead by turning back the St. Louis Cardinals on the masterful clutch pitching of Preacher Roe, 4-1.

The game was delayed 65 minutes by a strike of AFL Bartenders who threw a picket line around St. Louis' Sportsman's park. Union electricians refused to cross the line to go in and turn on the lights.

Cubs, Reds Lose
So 20,384 fans sat in darkness until Fred Saigh, Cardinal owner, could persuade the Bartenders, who work in the park's concessions to pull of their pickets.

The Dodgers thus increased their lead to a game and a half over both Chicago and the Cincinnati Reds, who fell victim to the New York Giants at Cincinnati, 2-1.

Sal Maglie, the Giants 23-game winner last year, limited the Reds to three hits and singled Alvin Dark home in the ninth for the winning run.

In the other National league game, Warren Spahn, the Boston Braves' crack left, nailed Pittsburgh tighter to the cellar by humbling the Pirates, 5-1, on five hits.

Only one game was played in the American league as unseasonable cold and wet grounds, which already have cost eastern clubs

Tigers Roughest Foe For Manager Stengel

BOSTON.—(P)—Since Casey Stengel walked in and said "I'm the new manager," the New York Yankees have found the Detroit Tigers their toughest foe.

The fourth year of rivalry between Stengel and Tiger Manager Red Rolfe, an old Yankee himself, starts Thursday night at the home of the world champions in New York.

Before leaving here for New York, the Tigers were scheduled to tackle the Boston Red Sox and marine-bound Ted Williams in an afternoon game today. They were rained out yesterday.

Virgil Trucks (0-1) was to pitch against the Sox' Mel Parrell (2-0).

Something Extra
Meanwhile in New York old Casey, who won a pennant each of his three years with the Yanks, had an explanation for the Detroiters' successes against his team:

"When those guys (The Tigers) play us, they always seem to put out a little something extra. And don't kid yourself, that little sompin' extra means a lot, even in baseball."

In other words Mr. Stengel doesn't discount that will-to-win psychology.

That Tiger will-to-win against the Yanks can be traced partly to Rolfe's desire to beat the renowned outfit he once played with and partly to the natural urge to knock off the biggest team in baseball.

32-34 Record
The Tigers have won 32 and Postponed were the St. Louis Browns' debut against the New York Yankees at Yankee Stadium, Chicago's game at Washington and Detroit's opening appearance at Boston. They'll try again today.

Wild One
The single American league conflict was at Philadelphia and the Indians won, 21-9. The game was a wild slugfest in which the teams pounded out a total of 43 hits, 25 of them by the Indians. Bob Feller was the winning pitcher although he gave up 18 safeties.

The American league record for two teams is 45, set by Philadelphia and Boston in 1902. The National league mark is 51 produced by the Phillies and Chicago Cubs in 1922.

Rookie Cleveland outfielder Jim Fridley came close to making baseball history when he pounded out six hits in six times at bat, all singles. While many players have collected six straight hits in a game, only one man—Wilbert Robinson, the old Brooklyn boss—has made seven in a row. He did it with Baltimore June 10, 1892.

Al Rosen, Indian third baseman, also had a banner evening at the plate, hitting three home runs and a single and knocking in seven runs.

lost 34 against the Yankees since Stengel and Rolfe began their rivalry. In 1949 and 1950 they broke even in 22 games each season and last year Detroit won 10 of 22.

Only Boston has come as close against the Yanks. The Bostonians have won 29 and lost 37.

Rolfe planned to start Art Houtteman, who pitched a one-hitter Saturday, in the Yankee opener.

In the Boston finale Rolfe expected to use the righthanded batters in his two-patoon system. That meant leftfielder Steve Souchock, centerfielder Johnny Groth and catcher Matt Batts would start.

That would bench leftfielder Pat Mullin, a left-handed batter who ranks second in the American league with a .385 average.

Of course Red is hoping his righthanders can rattle some base-

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK.—(P)—There is a plot ready-made for some bright young baseball novelist in the latest set of instructions sent out to National League umpires on how to conduct themselves in certain crises which might arise now that lights are an integral part of the pastime.

"In the event of a temporary failure of lights while a ball is in flight or a play in process," stipulates the Bulletin from Cincinnati, "the umpire will immediately call time and when the lights are turned on again and play is resumed, the batsman and all runners shall return to the last base touched by them at the time of suspension."

"Should the batsman be compelled to return to the batter's box, he shall assume the count of balls and strikes, if any, that prevailed at the time of suspension."

Plot Thickens

Get the idea. Score tied, last of the ninth, and a visiting bludgeoner connects with a mighty swipe. Obviously it's a home run, but just before the sphere clangs into the distant stands our hero, who has mortgaged the old home-stand on the locals, throws the master switch and saves the night.

Possibly there would be a bit of an argument, but the head umpire would have no choice once the bulbs were relit. In other words, given the right set of circumstances, that famous swat of Bobby Thomson's last fall could have escaped the record books entirely. Now they tell Charlie

24 Years In National League

Written for NEA Service

QUESTION: Brooklyn is keeping a young pitcher named Billy Loes. What is his background?

Answer: Loes, 22-year-old right-hander of Greek descent, is back with the Dodgers after nine months of Army service.

Loes, one of the more sought-after young stars of recent years, was scouted personally by Branch Rickey and signed for a $22,000 bonus by Branch Rickey in 1948. He pitched five no-hitters for Bryant High in Queens, N. Y., and was a member of the New England League in '49, he won 11 and lost three with an earned-run average of 2.80, had a no-hitter and a one-hitter. Promoted to Fort Worth in mid-season, he bagged five while dropping two with a 3.12 ERA. Being a bonus baby, he spent '50 with the Brooks, appearing in 10 games, all in relief and without a decision either way.

Q. Is there a penalty for throwing a glove at a fair batted ball?

A. Yes. If the glove hits the ball the batter gets three bases.

Q. What was the name of the player charged with three errors on one play?

A. Smead Jolley of the White Sox in a game at St. Louis.

Enforcement Of Dog Act Ordered

Strict enforcement of the city dog ordinance, which provides that all canines must be confined on the owner's premises or allowed abroad only on leash, was ordered by the Manistique City Council at a regular meeting Monday night.

Dogs found wandering at large after May 1 will be impounded and, if uncalled for, destroyed, councilmen decided.

A proposed new dog ordinance, under intermittent consideration for over a year by the council, still awaits official action.

Councilmen also looked over a proposed smoke abatement ordinance for the city, patterned after one now in effect in Sault Ste. Marie. The ordinance is being studied, and after some suggested changes will be brought back for consideration.

Renewal of workmen's compensation insurance carried by the city with the Martin Insurance Agency in cooperation with the Manistique Agency, was approved for the ensuing year, starting April 30.

Earl Burns, who recently purchased the timber on a forty-acre tract where the city dump is located for $436, was given a time extension of from 90 days to one year in which to remove the timber. Burns explained that, due to present market conditions, it would not be advisable to remove all of the timber within a shorter period.

The council also accepted the official canvass of votes in the recent election.

To Hold Zone Meeting May 13

A meeting of zone two, region two, of the Upper Peninsula Lions district will be held in Manistique Tuesday, May 13, it is announced by Howard Hewitt, secretary of the Manistique Lions Club.

The meeting has been called by Angus Nault, of Newberry, Lions district governor. The session will start with a 7:30 dinner.

Purpose of the meeting is to instruct new club presidents, secretaries and directors in their duties for this next fiscal year.

The following clubs are in zone two: Manistique, Rapid River, Garden, Nahma, Gladstone, Cornwell and Perkins.

Parade And Program To Feature May Day Observance Tomorrow

Beginning with a parade at 7 p. m., and concluding with a program in the Manistique high school auditorium, a May Day observance devoted to Americanism will be held tomorrow under the auspices of Manistique Lodge No. 632, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

Manistique high school bands, a

National Guard color guard, Boy and Girl Scouts, church groups and other young people are expected to take part in the parade, it is announced by Alan Walter, chairman of the Elks youth committee which has charge of the celebration.

The procession will begin at the intersection of Deer and Fifth streets and will march down Deer to River to Cedar to Oak where it will swing east on Oak to Maple avenue and north on Maple to the high school. Groups taking part in the parade are requested to be at the starting point at 6:30.

Included in the program at the auditorium, which will follow immediately after the parade, will be presentation of gifts to winners of a recent Elks youth leadership contest, a Boy Scout court of honor, and the showing of two motion pictures.

The public is invited to see the parade and attend the program. "Communists will march on May Day for the glory of Soviet Russia but we in Manistique are going to honor and pay tribute to the Stars and Stripes," Walter said in announcing the program.

Pacific Crossing Planned In Ketch

SAN PEDRO, Calif.—(P)—For John Caldwell, currently preparing the 36-foot ketch, Tropic Seas, for a voyage to Australia, this will be nothing new.

In 1946 he made the trip from Panama to Australia in a 29-foot sailboat to pick up his war bride. The sale of his book, "Desperate Voyage" about that trip is making this one possible.

His crew this time will be his sons, Johnnie, 4½, and Steve, 16 months. Caldwell figures the 6,000-mile trip will take a year so he is providing plenty of ham and eggs and books.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold its annual Poppy Day sale in May, it was reported at a regular auxiliary meeting Monday evening by Mrs. Rhoda Ekberg, poppy chairman. The date will be announced later.

A display publicizing the poppy sale will be set up in the window of Johnson Cleaners by Mrs. E. J. Doyle and Mrs. Joseph Jessick, it was announced.

Plans for a rummage sale under the direction of Miss Florence Hulett also were announced. Mrs. Joseph LaMuth will handle publicity for the sale.

Defense Jobs Fail To Balance Decline In Civilian Products

NEW YORK — (AP) — General Motors Corporation reports the volume of defense deliveries in the first quarter was not sufficient to offset a decline in sales of civilian products.

Maj. Brett Insists He'll Stay In Army Until September

FT. SILL, Okla. — (AP) — Maj. Tom Brett is determined to stay in the Army until September if he has to sue to do it.

The major just returned from serving with the 45th Division in Korea. The former Oklahoma National Guardsman was called into service in September, 1950, for a two-year term.

The Army didn't think anyone would complain about going home five months early after serving on the battle front. But they hadn't counted on Major Brett's careful planning.

His attorney, Clee Fitzgerald of Stillwater, explained the situation this way:

"He made his plans to cover an absence from his law practice until September and is counting on about $3,000 in Army pay until then to meet house and car payments."

But the Army says he will be a civilian within 24 hours, barring unforeseen developments.

Brett says he will bring his case into court in order to serve out the remainder of his time—even if he is sent back to Korea.

Lincoln's Specs Put On Display

CHICAGO — (AP) — Abraham Lincoln's spectacles for the first time are on public display.

The Chicago Historical Society acquired them for $275 from the Oliver R. Barret Lincoln Collection. The magnifying type specs were used by Old Abe for reading.

An eye specialist, Dr. Noah D. Fabricant, Chicago, said Lincoln probably had very good vision and started wearing the glasses when in his middle 40s.

money maker in 1951, reported lower first quarter sales and earnings than a year ago. It attributed the lower civilian sales to additional government restrictions on production.

Net income for the first quarter was listed at $127,023,260, equal to $1.42 a share, compared with $141,520,651, or $1.58 a share, in the first quarter of 1951.

Net sales were $1,793,085,048 in the first quarter this year and $1,959,879,617 in the comparable period last year.

A breakdown of first quarter sales in round figures showed 326 million dollars in defense work and $1,467,000,000 from civilian orders.

A year ago the comparable figure were 100 million dollars in defense sales and $1,860,000,000 in civilian orders.

GM reported that 47 per cent of its income during the first quarter went to suppliers, 28 per cent to employees for payrolls, 16 1/2 per cent for taxes, 1 1/2 per cent for depreciation, five per cent to GM share-holders and two per cent was retained in the business.

C. E. Wilson, president GM, and Alfred P. Sloan, Mr. chairman, said GM "sold all the units it was permitted to make and could have sold more judging by the excellent reception the public gave its 1952 lines.

Michigan Law Bars Cutting School For Religious Education

LANSING — (AP) — The United States Supreme Court's decision upholding released-time religious education for public school pupils will have no immediate effect in Michigan, Dr. Lee M. Thurston, state superintendent of public instruction, said today.

With only one exception, Michigan law does not permit students to be released from classes for outside religious education.

That exception, Dr. Thurston said, permits pupils between 12 and 14 years of age to be excused to attend confirmation classes lasting no longer than five months.

Mrs. Campbell Is New President Of Rock PTA

ROCK — At a meeting of the Rock PTA held Monday evening, April 28, Mrs. Richard Campbell was elected to the office of president. Also chosen to office were Mrs. John Jokela, first vice president, Mrs. Arne Johnson, 2nd vice president, Mrs. Eino Kivela, treasurer, Mrs. Albert Weldum, secretary, Mrs. Victor Mankiewicz, historian. The newly elected officers were installed by the retiring president, Mrs. Claire Horgan.

It was decided to purchase a set of film for the school's film strip machine. The following announcements also came up during the business session:

A pre-school immunization clinic will be held at the end of May if 20 or more children are signed up. All who are interested may contact Mrs. Claire Horgan, telephone 3111.

All PTA members are invited to attend the school picnic which will be held May 20 at the picnic grounds at the Dutch Mill.

Following the business meeting a movie on emotional health was shown by George Kulack. Lunch was served by the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grade mothers.

Early Warm Spell Worries Cherry Men

TRAVERSE CITY — (AP) — Cherry growers in this area, the heart of the nation's red tart cherry production, are taking a dim view of the abnormally hot April weather.

Buds on millions of trees are so far advanced that a stiff frost could wipe out most of the crop over night, they say.

Almost as important, bud growth has been so fast growers have been unable to apply early-season sprays to keep down pests.

Wax candles probably were first made by the Phoenicians about the second Century A. D.

las, Mrs. Ronald Beauchamp of Perkins, Mrs. Paul VanDamme of Watson, and Miss Jane DeBacker of Rock drove to Green Bay Saturday and spent the day there.
